multiple fractures of her leg in an automobile accident last June. Hospital personnel decided to throw the birthday party complete with cake and presents. Organizers were Sandy Bensonhaver, a nurses' aide and Linda Dunkle, head of personnel. She received a large Raggedy Ann doll and an electric blanket. Jean Ann was The Herald carrier in the village of Laurelville for several years.

Apollo 17 Countdown Goes Well

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 17 astronauts receive their final major physical examination today as the countdown moves smoothly toward Wednesday night's planned moon launch.

Space agency doctors will go over Eugene A. Cernan, geologist Harrison H. Schmitt and Ronald E. Evans to determine their fitness for the mission and gather medical data for inflight and postflight comparison.

Brief examinations on Nov. 6 and Nov. 20 found all three astronauts in excellent health.

Since Nov. 15 they have been in medical isolation which restricts them generally to three areas of the space center: crew quarters, the training building and the launch pad.

Only 109 persons are allowed to have direct contact with the astronauts to minimize the possibility of exposure to disease or illness. All, including the astronauts, were immunized against nine common diseases.

Among those on the contact list are the wives of Cernan and Evans, who were to fly here with their children later today to stay through the launching.

They'll return to their homes near Houston, Tex., to follow the progress of the 12½ day mission. Schmitt is not married.

John Glenn To Challenge Sen. Saxbe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Former astronaut John Glenn said today he is "considering very seriously running again" for the U.S. Senate.

He denied a comment attributed to him at Jefferson City, Mo., yesterday that he definitely will run again for the Senate in 1974.

"I have been assessing the possibility of running again," Glenn said. "The fact I was defeated does not mean I have lost interest in politics."

The 50-year-old Columbus businessman was defeated in the 1970 Senate primary by Cleveland millionaire Howard Metzenbaum. Sen. Robert Taft defeated Metzenbaum in the general election.

Glenn said if he announces for the race he will do so somewhere in Ohio.

"I'll have to look at other factors before deciding," he said. "There is the matter of party support, financing and other things."

Still looking as fit and trim as he did when he became the first American to orbit the earth aboard the "Freedom 7" capsule in 1962, Glenn said he remains deeply interested in the space program.

He said he was unhappy that this country's exploration of the moon will end with the Apollo 17 flight next week. "But then I hated to see the Mercury and Gemini programs end, too," he added.

The former Marine colonel said he thinks the "real payoff days" of the space program are just beginning.

He said there have been a number of little publicized scientific achievements resulting from the moon flights.

As an example, Glenn noted a recent experiment where scientists mixed lunar soil with earth soil and found that certain varieties of corn grown in the mixture had a return four to 10 times greater than normal.

"If they can find out whether it's some sort of radiation or something that can be duplicated," he said, "the earth for the first time might be able to produce enough food to feed its people."

Vietnam Settlement Still Up In Air

WASHINGTON (AP) — South Vietnam's special envoy Nguyen Phu Duc today sought a fourth meeting with national security adviser Henry A. Kissinger on the final shape of a Vietnam peace settlement.

Vietnamese diplomatic sources said Duc would again see Kissinger at the White House before returning to Saigon, but a White House spokesman said after Thursday's discussions "nothing is set at this time."

Underlying the conflicting reports were indications that the United States is growing impatient and may not wait for its South Vietnamese ally to approve before signing a final peace agreement with the North Vietnamese.

Informal sources said Saigon is not now ready to initial the modified draft agreement worked out between Kissinger and the North Vietnamese in secret Paris talks.

Nixon, who along with Kissinger, met with Duc twice before flying off to Key Biscayne, Fla., Thursday, is reported as determined as ever to settle the Vietnam war on honorable terms as quickly as possible.

Before his meeting with Duc, Thursday, Nixon also called in the Joint Chiefs of Staff for what deputy press secretary Gerald L. Warren called "a review of the entire, situation in South Vietnam."

Kissinger is scheduled to join the President in Florida today whether or not there is a fourth meeting with Duc.

The White House and the Pentagon said, meanwhile, there will be no formal announcement in the future of large troop withdrawals from Vietnam, although the Pentagon said small withdrawals would continue.

By ending the formal announcements, the Pentagon said negotiators in Paris would be given additional flexibility in discussing troop levels. A 27,000-troop ceiling set for today has been reached, the White House said.

U.S. officials say Duc has continued to insist in his meetings here on the major remaining demand of the South Vietnamese, which is for a written commitment from the North Vietnamese to withdraw their troops from the South.

Sources said Nixon has probably advised Duc that no such pledge could be obtained, but that enough safeguards were available to protect a ceasefire.

American officials also confirmed that the United States will seek to internationalize reconstruction efforts in Indochina after the war. It will require massive cooperation, one official said, for all four embattled countries of the war—Laos, Cambodia, South and North Vietnam.

In another development in Washington, Deputy Foreign Minister Stanislaw Trepczynski of Poland said his country is willing to be among the four nations expected to supervise a ceasefire.

UMW Members Begin Voting

Labor Department Runs Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 200,000 members of the United Mine Workers Union begin casting ballots for their officers today under the tightest federal control in the history of the American labor movement.

The principal election fight is between Mine Workers President W. A. "Tony" Boyle, 70, whose last opponent was murdered, and challenger Arnold Miller of Ohley, W. Va.

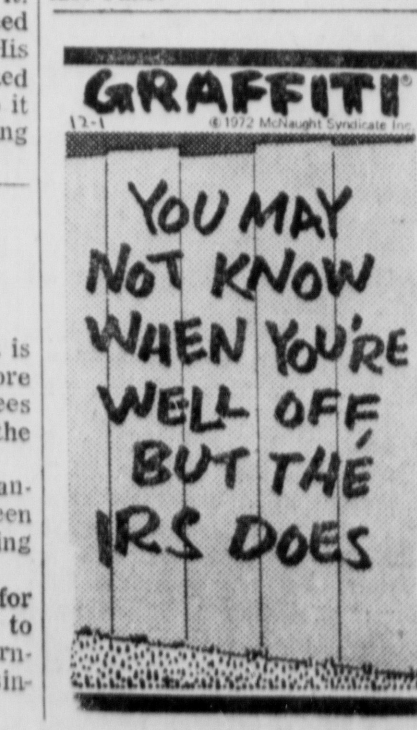

The election was ordered by a federal judge after finding that Boyle's 1969 re-election over the late Joseph A. Yablonski was marred by widespread violations of labor law.

Yablonski, his wife and daughter were found shot to death in their Clarksville, Pa., home several weeks after the 1969 election. Several union officials have been indicted in connection with the crime. Boyle has repeatedly denied any knowledge of the slayings.

Miller, a retired coal miner, was nominated by Miners for Democracy, a rebel group formed by supporters of the late Yablonski, including his two lawyer sons, Joseph A. Yablonski and Kenneth Yablonski.

Eligible to vote are some 120,000 working coal miners and approximately 80,000 retired miners in 25 states.

The balloting will take place over the next eight days under the watchful eyes of about 1,000 agents of the U.S. Department of Labor. The government has been observing all aspects of union affairs since the court order handed down by U.S. District Judge William B. Bryant last June.

Reds Shell Bien Hoa Base; 4 Americans Among Injured

SAIGON (AP) — Communist forces shelled the Bien Hoa air base before dawn, killing a child and wounding nine Vietnamese and four Americans, field reports said.

Thirty 100-pound rockets slammed into Bien Hoa, one of the major installations for the accelerated buildup of South Vietnam's air force, headquarters of two U.S. Marine fighter-bomber squadrons and a turnaround point for American jets flying out of Thailand. The base is 15 miles northeast of Saigon.

The reports said four South

Vietnamese airmen were wounded on the base and four Americans were injured running for cover. Several other rockets hit in a village adjoining the base, killing a child and wounding four children and one woman.

One rocket scored a direct hit on the South Vietnamese air freight terminal building while others damaged five South Vietnamese A1 Skyraider bombers and one helicopter and wrecked a maintenance hangar.

In Saigon, a terrorist bomb badly damaged a government office but caused no casualties. At Cat Lai, six miles east of the capital, another bomb in a Navy compound wounded one person.

North Vietnamese gunners made more shelling attacks along the demilitarized zone, in the central highlands and at An Loc, 60 miles north of Saigon. The Saigon command reported 53 enemy attacks — 41 of them shelling — during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m.

More than 1,000 rounds of artillery and mortars were fired at South Vietnamese marines 12 miles below the DMZ, and fighting erupted both to the north and south of Quang Tri City. The Saigon command claimed its marines and paratroopers killed 37 North Vietnamese, while government casualties were two killed and 39 wounded.

U.S. B52 bombers kept up heavy raids on both sides of the DMZ and in the buffer zone itself.

More than 50 B52s dropped some 1,200 tons of explosives on what the U.S. Command described as supply caches, troop positions and staging areas during the 18-hour period from noon Thursday until 6 a.m. today.

The U.S. Command reported American fighter-bombers flew about 30 strikes in the southern panhandle of North Vietnam during the 24 hours before 5 p.m. Thursday.

Sex Costly In Side Yard

NORWICH, England (AP) — Walter Worts was fined 50 pounds — $120 — Thursday for having sexual intercourse with his wife in their side yard.

Only a row of flowers separated the loving pair from the garden next door, and the neighbor's two young children saw them. They told their mother, who telephoned the police.

"I love my wife and I cannot see why we should not show some affection to each other," said Worts, 39. "The children may have seen us, but it was not intentional."

Prosecutor John Bates argued that an Englishman may do what he likes in his castle, but it shouldn't be necessary for his neighbor to put up a fence to avoid seeing him do it.

The magistrates convicted Worts of indecent exposure. His 33-year-old wife was acquitted — on condition she doesn't do it again — on a charge of aiding and abetting her husband.

Ex-Defense Chief McElroy Dies At 68; Headed P&G

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Former Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy, a business wizard who guided the nation's defense establishment through the first 26 months of the space age, is dead of cancer at 68.

By the time he ended his tenure as the civilian chief at the Pentagon under President Dwight D. Eisenhower, the era of missiles had arrived as a basic military concept.

McElroy provided the theme for one of the chief debates of the 1960 presidential campaign with an earlier warning that a

"missile gap" existed between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Democrats seized upon the phrase to accuse the Republican administration of shortsightedness.

The government service of McElroy, who died late Thursday night, was not limited to overseeing the armed might of the nation.

The tall, sandy-haired Ohioan also was called upon to head educational commissions established by Eisenhower and later President Nixon.

A native of Berea, Ohio, McElroy was president of Procter & Gamble when Eisenhower summoned him to become secretary of defense.

He was sworn in on Oct. 9, 1957, only four days after Russian scientists launched the first man-made satellite.

McElroy was making $285,000 a year when he was offered the $250,000 Cabinet post in 1957.

"If a man doesn't try to carry his share of the citizenship load when the opportunity presents itself," he said accepting, "then he ought to keep his mouth shut when something goes wrong with the way the government is run."

McElroy started with Procter & Gamble as an advertising delivery man in 1925, the summer he graduated from Harvard with a degree in economics.

In 23 years he had climbed to the top rung of management.

Snow Pounds New England

A moisture-laden autumn storm dumped 5 to 9 inches of snow across interior New England today and spilled soaking rains into coastal sections southward through the Middle Atlantic States.

West Berne, N.Y., southwest of Albany, was hit by 9 inches of snow; Concord, N.H., had 6 inches and Portland, 5 inches.

Subzero cold moved across the Northern Plains to the upper Great Lakes Region, pushing snow into Michigan and Indiana. One to 2 inches of snow also whitened the Red River Valley of the North in the Dakotas and Minnesota.

The Southeast remained on the cool side, although southern Florida basked in the mild 70s.

Although most of the Far West was clear, fog again settled into the Central Valley of California.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 6 at Duluth, Minn., to 75 at Key West, Fla.

Kissinger Future Shrouded In Mystery?

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon says William P. Rogers will remain as his second-term secretary of state but questions remain about the future plans of the administration's No. 1 glamour diplomat — Henry A. Kissinger.

Until Thursday when Nixon announced that Rogers would remain as a holdover in his second-term Cabinet there had been muted speculation about the intentions of Kissinger, Nixon's assistant for national security affairs.

Many still wonder what Kissinger, fresh from opening new doors to Peking and Moscow, will do after peace is achieved.

Asked about this, Kissinger said only that he plans to go to Mexico for a two-week vacation.

A Kissinger associate offered

odds recently of 6 to 4 that the Vietnam peace negotiator and former Harvard University professor would exit the government scene after helping to fulfill the President's promise to end America's military involvement in Southeast Asia.

Another Nixon aide, probably closer to the President, made light of any talk about Kissinger departing. Jokingly, he said, "Did you ever try to pry a size 10 foot out of a size 9 shoe?"

However, another White House aide who is a day-to-day associate of Kissinger's remarked: "Henry often has said you come into this job with a certain amount of intellectual capital and draw upon it all the time — with scant chance to replenish it."

Some members of Congress have suggested publicly that Kissinger fulfills the historic role of secretary of state, yet is not called upon to testify before Senate or House committees because he is a member of the President's personal staff.

Prior to Thursday's announcement, rumor had been rife that Rogers was leaving the Cabinet.

Tax Sharing Bill Pushed By Lame Ducks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sixteen vocational education construction projects might have to be scrapped if the legislature doesn't act before the end of the year on allocation of Ohio's revenue sharing funds, House Speaker Charles Kurfess, R-4, Perrysburg, said Thursday.

Kurfess' statement came with introduction of a Republican sponsored bill for distribution of Ohio's $69 million 1972 federal revenue sharing money.

The bill would give $42.5 million as state matching grants for the vocational school construction projects, $15 million to help underwrite the cost of the new $60 million state office building, $8.5 million for public school construction and $3 million for welfare hospital payments.

Gov. John Gilligan's office is preparing its own bill for distribution of the funds and maintains there is no reason the money can't wait until next year when Democrats take control of the House in the new legislature.

Kurfess maintains, however, that the state is committed to provide the vocational education money, and that if it is not provided soon, bond issues might have to be resubmitted for the local share on the projects or construction plans scrapped.

"It is essential that we deal with this matter yet this year," he said.

The largest of the projects Kurfess said could be in jeopardy were a $13 million grant for Toledo and $12.6 million for Columbus. The others ranged downward from $3.1 million for the North Portage County Joint Vocational School District to $15,672 for West Clermont Local schools.

Gilligan's office said the governor would have no comment on the measure "until we see if it might have the votes to pass."

"It never pays to rush to spend money," said Gilligan's press aide Robert Tenenbaum. "That's something the Republicans have preached for a long time."

New Orleans Fire Arson?

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The New Orleans Times-Picayune reported today that a secretary at the Rault Center, a 16-story office-apartment building hit by fire Wednesday, was warned to get out of the building because there would be a blaze.

The newspaper said the 20-year-old secretary, who was not identified, said she received the warning from a man as she was getting off an elevator on the third floor where she works.

The blaze on the top floors of the building erupted about five hours later. Four persons perished and three were critically injured.

The Times-Picayune reported that the secretary said the man looked like a former employee. She told the paper he approached her and asked if she were going to be in the building at 1 p.m., and she responded, "I guess so."

"Well, you better not, because that's when the fire's going to start," he allegedly told her.

Teen Drinking May Harm Bill On Legal Status

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Senate-passed bill giving full legal status to 18-year-olds may die in a House committee because of the politically sensitive issue of teen-age drinking.

Leaders say Democrats and Republicans alike are sensitive about it and are not anxious to incur the possible wrath of religious and temperance groups by passing it. "I don't think it's going to move," said House Speaker Charles Kurfess, R-4, Perrysburg.

The measure by Sen. Stanley Aronoff, R-8 Cincinnati and Sen. Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, is similar to bills already passed in some states as a follow-up of voting rights for persons 18 and over.

It would permit persons at age 18 to marry without permission, enter into contracts, incur debt, and take part in most other legal matters now reserved for persons 21 and over.

The bill was amended on the Senate floor to include the right to buy whisky and high-powered beer although 13 senators opposed the amendment.

The bill passed the upper chamber 31-1, however, with Sen. Robert Secrest, D-20 Cambridge, casting the dissenting vote and saying he did so because of the amendment. That was May 30.

Since then, the measure has been pending in the House State Government Committee headed by Rep. Robert Manning, R-94 Akron. He said he has "no present plans" to call a hearing on the bill. If he doesn't, it will die when the current lame duck session adjourns later this month.

House Democratic Leader A.G. Lancia, D-30 Bellaire, who will become speaker next month when Democrats take control of the chamber in the new 110th General Assembly, said he wants to see the bill passed.

Referring to the liquor provision, he said "people tell me they are all drinking now any way. I'd rather have them buying whisky than dope."

While the bill does extend to 18-year-olds most adult rights and responsibilities, it makes a few exceptions to reserve certain protections traditionally reserved for young people.

It would leave intact laws providing for commitments to the Ohio Youth Commission and Mansfield Reformatory and the legal designation for orphans eligible for care in an orphan's or foster home.

McElroy provided the theme for one of the chief debates of the 1960 presidential campaign with an earlier warning that a

"missile gap" existed between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Democrats seized upon the phrase to accuse the Republican administration of shortsightedness.

The government service of McElroy, who died late Thursday night, was not limited to overseeing the armed might of the nation.

The tall, sandy-haired Ohioan also was called upon to head educational commissions established by Eisenhower and later President Nixon.

A native of Berea, Ohio, McElroy was president of Procter & Gamble when Eisenhower summoned him to become secretary of defense.

He was sworn in on Oct. 9, 1957, only four days after Russian scientists launched the first man-made satellite.

McElroy was making $285,000 a year when he was offered the $25,000 Cabinet post in 1957.

"If a man doesn't try to carry his share of the citizenship load when the opportunity presents itself," he said accepting, "then he ought to keep his mouth shut when something goes wrong with the way the government is run."

McElroy started with Procter & Gamble as an advertising delivery man in 1925, the summer he graduated from Harvard with a degree in economics.

In 23 years he had climbed to the top rung of management.

Snow Pounds New England

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A moisture-laden autumn storm dumped 5 to 9 inches of snow across interior New England today and spilled soaking rains into coastal sections southward through the Middle Atlantic States.

West Berne, N.Y., southwest of Albany, was hit by 9 inches of snow; Concord, N.H., had 6 inches and Portland, 5 inches.

Subzero cold moved across the Northern Plains to the upper Great Lakes Region, pushing snow into Michigan and Indiana. One to 2 inches of snow also whitened the Red River Valley of the North in the Dakotas and Minnesota.

The Southeast remained on the cool side, although southern Florida basked in the mild 70s.

Although most of the Far West was clear, fog again settled into the Central Valley of California.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 6 at Duluth, Minn., to 75 at Key West, Fla.

Kissinger Future Shrouded In Mystery?

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon says William P. Rogers will remain as his second-term secretary of state but questions remain about the future plans of the administration's No. 1 glamour diplomat — Henry A. Kissinger.

Until Thursday when Nixon announced that Rogers would remain as a holdover in his second-term Cabinet there had been muted speculation about the intentions of Kissinger, Nixon's assistant for national security affairs.

Many still wonder what Kissinger, fresh from opening new doors to Peking and Moscow, will do after peace is achieved.

Asked about this, Kissinger said only that he plans to go to Mexico for a two-week vacation.

A Kissinger associate offered

odds recently of 6 to 4 that the Vietnam peace negotiator and former Harvard University professor would exit the government scene after helping to fulfill the President's promise to end America's military involvement in Southeast Asia.

Another Nixon aide, probably closer to the President, made light of any talk about Kissinger departing. Jokingly, he said, "Did you ever try to pry a size 10 foot out of a size 9 shoe?"

However, another White House aide, who is a day-to-day associate of Kissinger's remarked: "Henry often has said you come into this job with a certain amount of intellectual capital and draw upon it all the time — with scant chance to replenish it."

Some members of Congress have suggested publicly that Kissinger fulfills the historic role of secretary of state, yet is not called upon to testify before Senate or House committees because he is a member of the President's personal staff.

Prior to Thursday's announcement, rumor had been rife that Rogers was leaving the Cabinet.

Apollo 17 Countdown Goes Well

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 17 astronauts receive their final major physical examination today as the countdown moves smoothly toward Wednesday night's planned moon launch.

Space agency doctors will go over Eugene A. Cernan, geologist Harrison H. Schmitt and Ronald E. Evans to determine their fitness for the mission and gather medical data for inflight and postflight comparison.

Briefer examinations on Nov. 6 and Nov. 20 found all three astronauts in excellent health.

Since Nov. 15 they have been in medical isolation which restricts them generally to three areas of the space center: crew quarters, the training building and the launch pad.

Only 109 persons are allowed to have direct contact with the astronauts to minimize the possibility of exposure to disease or illness. All, including the astronauts, were immunized against nine common diseases.

Among those on the contact list are the wives of Cernan and Evans, who were to fly here with their children later today to stay through the launching.

They'll return to their homes near Houston, Tex., to follow the progress of the 12½ day mission. Schmitt is not married.

PINNED — Scioto Squad rescue workers used a spare tire and jack to free Mrs. Janet Lou Bradford, 25, Route 1, Lockbourne, from under the right front tire of her truck after she was thrown from the vehicle and then run over. Driver, Mack N. Bradford, 28, said the truck dropped off the right side of the Harrisburg-Fairfield Rd., about 7 p.m. Thursday. When he tried to correct it, the rear end of the vehicle spun around and traveled backwards 74 feet. Mrs. Bradford, sitting in the passenger seat, was thrown out. She was treated at Berger Hospital for multiple scalp lacerations and right leg injuries. Bradford was treated for a bruised right leg. Their children were also hurt. Todd N., suffered a wrist injury and Kimberly Dawn, 3, had abrasions to both legs. Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson investigated the accident.

Deputy Thompson Arrests Pair On Larceny Charge

Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson filed four charges against Goble McCoy Thursday after stopping him for routine investigation of a petit larceny charge.

McCoy was charged with petit larceny, having no operator's license, displaying a fictitious operator's license, and being absent without leave from the military.

In addition, Deputy Thompson charged Kenneth Pack with petit larceny. Both are in Pickaway County Jail under $200 bond.

The men apparently entered Deercreek Auto Parts Store, Williamsport, about 4 p.m. Thursday. McCoy told clerk Gary Wiscup that he wanted to sign a check he had given the store Tuesday but had failed to sign.

He then said he wanted to pick up some lug nuts for a wheel he had purchased.

Store personnel become suspicious when McCoy failed to return to the office and spotted him driving away. They also spotted Pack running from the lot.

Randy and John Kiser chased Pack out the east side of the lot, where Randy saw him throw an object in the ditch. He discovered that it was the carburetor off a wrecked car valued at $50.

James Lowery and Harold Cockrell finally caught up with Pack, took him to the auto parts office, and called for a deputy. Sheriff's dispatcher John Bost told Deputy Thompson to drive to the Williamsport store and be on the lookout for McCoy's auto.

Meat Import Quota Law Supported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Charles Vanik, D-Ohio, told President Nixon Thursday a two-year extension of the meat import quota law is "vital if the American consumer is to be able to buy meat at reasonable prices in the months ahead."

"The prospect of higher meat prices due to a restoration of the meat import quota comes at a particularly bad time," Vanik said he advised the President in a letter.

The suspension of meat import limitations expires Dec. 31. "It can be anticipated that meat prices are rising or will be rising in anticipation of a return to limited supplies of imported processing meats," Vanik said.

As a result of the half-year suspension of the restrictions he said, "an additional 35 million pound of meat have been able to enter the country," or an estimated 15 per cent increase over last year.

Vanik said some experts estimate that the grain sales to foreign countries this summer will cause a 5 to 8 cent increase in the price of a pound of beef. In addition, he said, a harvesting disaster caused in the Midwest by wet fall weather will bring high feed grain prices which probably will result in meat shortages in a year or two.

Rail Strike Negotiations Deadlocked

NEW YORK (AP) — Drove of Long Island commuters improvised their way to work for a second day amid glum reports of no progress in negotiations to end a strike against the nation's busiest commuter railroad.

The Long Island Rail Road, which normally provides service for 170,000 daily passengers, was struck Thursday by its 5,000 nonoperating employees in a contract dispute over wages.

Commuters were inconvenienced but the massive traffic jams that had been feared never materialized Thursday as workers staggered traveling hours and took advantage of expanded bus and car parking facilities outside the city.

There were long delays for many. Lengthy lines formed at bus stops and subway change booths. Highway traffic was excessive during both morning and evening commuter rush hours. Demands for helicopter service reportedly quadrupled.

Prospects for a rapid settlement got low rating from all sides. Negotiators huddled most of the day at the International Hotel at Kennedy Airport, recessing at 11 p.m.

William Ronan, chairman of the Metropolitan Transportation Authority, which owns and operates the railroad, emerged saying only, "We both have a lot of homework to do."

Free 'Grass' Voted Down

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A plan to use student funds to buy large quantities of marijuana and distribute it free on the University of Michigan campus has been narrowly rejected by the student government.

Some $2,500 in student funds would have been allotted to a Student Dope Cooperative under a proposal authored by Student Government Council representative Dave Hornstein. The plan was part of his successful election campaign this fall.

The dope co-op lost Thursday night on a 6-6 tie, with council President Bill Jacobs casting the deciding ballot against the plan.

Two students promptly started a campaign to recall Jacobs. At one point in the deliberations, a council member suggested the plan be 'referred' back to committee for further consideration.

The council receives some $90,000 annually from a special assessment collected by the University as part of tuition.

Stocks Post Big Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices held to their sharp gains today, but the earlier rally appeared checked.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial at noon was up 8.28 at 1026.49, little changed from a half hour earlier. This was above last Friday's record closing high of 1025.21.

Advances led declines on the New York Stock Exchange by 2 to 1.

Analysts said the market appeared to have temporarily spent its profit-taking force.

They said investors were buying in anticipation of Monday's resumption of Vietnam peace negotiations.

Levitz Furniture, which reported higher earnings recently, was up 1 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Glamours were strong. Fairchild Camera was up 7 1/2 to 59 1/2; and Winnebago was up 1 1/2 to 28 1/2.

On the American Stock Exchange, Rex Noreco was off 1/4 to 7 1/2.

Burger Delays Imposition Of Clean-Air Regulation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A last-day intervention by Supreme Court Chief Justice Warren E. Burger has headed off the imposition of federal regulations forbidding any pollution of air that is still clean.

Government lawyers, who are appealing lower court orders that require this "non-degradation" policy, say its application would mean economic disaster for clean-air regions.

But a spokesman for the Environmental Protection Agency said administrator William D. Ruckelshaus would have issued the regulation, although reluctantly, by the court-imposed midnight deadline if Burger had not granted a stay Thursday.

Burger's stay was to last only long enough for the full Supreme Court, which meets each Friday, to consider whether a longer stay was warranted.

Government lawyers prepared to file a petition seeking Supreme Court review of the entire case.

Under the Clean Air Amendments of 1970, EPA has established air quality standards setting limits on the permissible levels of smoke and dust, sulfur oxides, carbon monoxide, nitrogen oxides, hydrocarbons and photochemical oxidants—all

PINNED — Scioto Squad rescue workers used a spare tire and jack to free Mrs. Janet Lou Bradford, 25, Route 1, Lockbourne, from under the right front tire of her truck after she was thrown from the vehicle and then run over. Driver, Mack N. Bradford, 28, said the truck dropped off the right side of the Harrisburg-Fairfield Rd., about 7 p.m. Thursday. When he tried to correct it, the rear end of the vehicle spun around and traveled backwards 74 feet. Mrs. Bradford, sitting in the passenger seat, was thrown out. She was treated at Berger Hospital for multiple scalp lacerations and right leg injuries. Bradford was treated for a bruised right leg. Their children were also hurt. Todd N., suffered a wrist injury and Kimberly Dawn, 3, had abrasions to both legs. Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson investigated the accident.

Deputy Thompson Arrests Pair On Larceny Charge

Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson filed four charges against Goble McCoy Thursday after stopping him for routine investigation of a petit larceny charge.

McCoy was charged with petit larceny, having no operator's license, displaying a fictitious operator's license, and being absent without leave from the military.

In addition, Deputy Thompson charged Kenneth Pack with petit larceny. Both are in Pickaway County Jail under $200 bond.

The men apparently entered Deercreek Auto Parts Store, Williamsport, about 4 p.m. Thursday. McCoy told clerk Gary Wiscup that he wanted to sign a check he had given the store Tuesday but had failed to sign.

He then said he wanted to pick up some lug nuts for a wheel he had purchased.

Store personnel became suspicious when McCoy failed to return to the office and spotted him driving away. They also spotted Pack running from the lot.

Randy and John Kiser chased Pack out the east side of the lot, where Randy saw him throw an object in the ditch. He discovered that it was the carburetor off a wrecked car valued at $50.

James Lowery and Harold Cockrell finally caught up with Pack, took him to the auto parts office, and called for a deputy. Sheriff's dispatcher John Bost told Deputy Thompson to drive to the Williamsport store and be on the lookout for McCoy's auto.

Rail Strike Negotiations Deadlocked

NEW YORK (AP) — Doves of Long Island commuters improvised their way to work for a second day amid glum reports of no progress in negotiations to end a strike against the nation's busiest commuter railroad.

The Long Island Rail Road, which normally provides service for 170,000 daily passengers, was struck Thursday by its 5,000 nonoperating employees in a contract dispute over wages.

Commuters were inconvenienced but the massive traffic jams that had been feared never materialized Thursday as workers staggered traveling hours and took advantage of expanded bus and car parking facilities outside the city.

There were long delays for many. Lengthy lines formed at bus stops and subway change booths. Highway traffic was excessive during both morning and evening commuter rush hours. Demands for helicopter service reportedly quadrupled.

Prospects for a rapid settlement got low rating from all sides. Negotiators huddled most of the day at the International Hotel at Kennedy Airport, recessing at 11 p.m.

William Ronan, chairman of the Metropolitan Transportation Authority, which owns and operates the railroad, emerged saying only, "We both have a lot of homework to do."

Free 'Grass' Voted Down

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A plan to use student funds to buy large quantities of marijuana and distribute it free on the University of Michigan campus has been narrowly rejected by the student government.

Some $2,500 in student funds would have been allotted to a Student Dope Cooperative under a proposal authored by Student Government Council representative Dave Hornstein.

The plan was part of his successful election campaign this fall.

The dope co-op lost Thursday night on a 6-6 tie, with council President Bill Jacobs casting the deciding ballot against the plan.

Two students promptly started a campaign to recall Jacobs.

At one point in the deliberations, a council member suggested the plan be "referred" back to committee for further consideration.

The council receives some $90,000 annually from a special assessment collected by the University as part of tuition.

Stocks Post Big Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices held to their sharp gains today, but the earlier rally appeared checked.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial at noon was up 8.28 at 1026.49, little changed from a half hour earlier. This was above last Friday's record closing high of 1025.21.

Advances led declines on the New York Stock Exchange by 2 to 1.

Analysts said the market appeared to have temporarily spent up its profit-taking force.

They said investors were buying in anticipation of Monday's resumption of Vietnam peace negotiations.

Levitz Furniture, which reported higher earnings recently, was up 1 1/2 to 25%.

Glamours were strong. Fairchild Camera was up 1 1/2 to 39 1/4; and Winnebago was up 1 1/2 to 28 1/2.

On the American Stock Exchange, Rex Noreco was off 1/2 to 7 1/2.

If shelled nuts are refrigerated in tightly covered containers they will stay fresh-tasting for as long as nine months.

YOU'RE ON TV — Sgt. S. D. Wolfinger of the Ohio State Highway Patrol points to the video tape unit used by the local post in its fight to get the drunk driver of the highways. When a motorist is charged with driving while intoxicated, he is brought to the post where a video tape record is made of the standdard tests for being under the influence. These tests include walking the straight line, touching the nose with the eyes closed, leaning forward and backward with eyes closed. According to Lt. Wayne Henry, commander of the local post, the tapes are admissible as evidence in court.

Burger Delays Imposition Of Clean-Air Regulation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A last-day intervention by Supreme Court Chief Justice Warren E. Burger has headed off the imposition of federal regulations forbidding any pollution of air that is still clean.

Government lawyers, who are appealing lower court orders that require this "non-degradation" policy, say its application would mean economic disaster for clean-air regions.

But a spokesman for the Environmental Protection Agency said administrator William D. Ruckelshaus would have issued the regulation, although reluctantly, by the court-imposed midnight deadline if Burger had not granted a stay Thursday.

Burger's stay was to last only long enough for the full Supreme Court, which meets each Friday, to consider whether a longer stay was warranted.

Government lawyers prepared to file a petition seeking Supreme Court review of the entire case.

Under the Clean Air Amendments of 1970, EPA has established air quality standards setting limits on the permissible levels of smoke and dust, sulfur oxides, carbon monoxide, nitrogen oxides, hydrocarbons and photochemical oxidants—all

Dear Abby:

Girl-Watching With A Difference

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the pastor's wife who complained because her husband ogled the cute young things in miniskirts tickled my funny bone.

I, too, am a man-of-the-cloth who gives more than a passing glance to the scantily clad girls of my parish for purposes of preparing and delivering a scathing hell's fire sermon against such further displays.

I am also flirty and capable of having "turned on" feelings, but when such thoughts knock on the door of my imagination, I do not invite them to be entertained.

My wife is neither a qualified observer of my conduct nor an accurate interpreter of my actions, and unless that pastor's wife who wrote to you can attest to her husband's intent (in which case she should be exorcised) she had better fall on her knees and ask the Lord's forgiveness for entertaining such presumptuous thoughts as she conveyed in her "sick," lack-of-faith letter to you.

ANOTHER PASTOR
DEAR PASTOR: Only a man-of-the-cloth who has been acculturated could be holier than thou.

DEAR ABBY: This year I didn't have any great big husband's family like I did last year, and I will tell you why. Last year I worked like a horse for two days to prepare a really nice Thanksgiving dinner for my husband's parents, his two sisters, three brothers, and their kids, which numbered 19, including my own three children. (I don't have any family.)

All the men filled up on egg nog before dinner and they hardly ate anything. My mother-in-law is on a salt-free diet and my father-in-law has ulcers, so they didn't eat much.

One 4-year-old nephew got restless at the table, so his mother let him leave the table and run around. Naturally, all the other kids wanted to do it, too. What a madhouse!

I was so disgusted I was ready to scream.
This year I just told everybody I wasn't planning anything—I was just feeding my husband and kids — and you should have heard the complaints. Was I wrong? My husband has been sulking ever since.

HAD IT IN MILWAUKEE
DEAR HAD IT: Let him sulk. I'm with you.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding your advice to the divorcee who wants to meet the eligible attorney: you suggested "appointment at the office" approach would be successful only with an attorney of doubtful eligibility. Instead, why not use a mutual acquaintance?

Furthermore, she may have a difficult time finding a lawyer who meets her qualifications—one "who puts God first, family second, and his job last." Usually the order is reversed.

NON-LOOKING (AT THE OFFICE) LAWYER IN MERCED, CAL.

DEAR NON: A mutual acquaintance is not always easy to find.

It may be only a coincidence but I know a beautiful unhappy married woman who took her marital problems to an eligible attorney. He not only separated her from her husband he separated her husband from his money. Then he married his client.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I want to donate our bodies after death, but don't know how to go about it. Can you help us?

HHH Heads Veep Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic party's most recent vice-president, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, will direct a year-long study on how the party can improve its method of selecting vice-presidential candidates.

The appointment was announced Wednesday by Democratic National Committee Chairman Jean Westwood. The study is a partial outgrowth over difficulties in selecting a running mate for Sen. George McGovern, the party's 1972 presidential candidate.

Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., the first choice, stepped down from the ticket after disclosures he had been hospitalized for nervous exhaustion and fatigue.

McGovern, along with many other politicians, has said he thinks there is too much pressure on a presidential nominee to select a running mate quickly without adequate investigation.

Humphrey is to select members of a commission to serve with him and make recommendations by Jan. 1, 1974.

No Americans Killed In Action During Week

SAIGON (AP) — No Americans were reported killed in Vietnam last week, but three were missing or captured, the U.S. Command reported today. It was the first weekly casualty summary without fatalities since January 1965, when the United States was just beginning its massive troop buildup.

Another 11 Americans were wounded, the U.S. Command said.

The pattern of more Americans missing than killed is likely to continue because the chief U.S. participation in the war is now the air campaign against North Vietnam.

Three of the last 11 weekly casualty summaries have listed no U.S. combat deaths, but on those weeks there were reports of servicemen dead from "causes other than hostile action."

Black Gold

The Amazon Basin of South America is an extensive, largely underpopulated and undeveloped region long suggested as the key to economic rejuvenation of the continent. Development is beginning, slowly but in ways which could have lasting impact.

Major highway construction in Brazil will link the northeast with the west through thousands of miles of roads. The benefits of accessibility to vast inland territory will spill over into adjoining nations.

Oil discoveries in the basin east of the Andes already have resulted in large extractions of crude oil in a half dozen countries, with the industry only beginning what is expected to be a long period of expansion.

Venezuela produced at the rate of 3.7 million barrels a day last year; Ecuador currently is extracting 250,000 barrels a day, and Peru may be outproducing both in another decade. Estimates of the capital needed to develop Peruvian strikes run over a billion dollars.

Two trans-Andean pipelines, one in Colombia and the other in Ecuador, have cost American oil companies a half billion dollars. The size of the investment confirms the belief the Amazon oil pool may be among the world's largest.

Yuletide Greetings

One of the popular by-products of Christmas is the greeting card. Often it is the only slender manifestation of friendship that survives the passing years.

With or without verse, ornate or plain, such cards are welcome visitors at all homes during the season of warm friendship and generosity. The custom of exchanging Christmas cards is so universally followed that it imposes a burden on postal workers for weeks before Christmas.

From now until Christmas postal workers will be too busy with the greeting cards and mailed gifts of other folk to get much fun out of the Yuletide season. That is unless everyone helps by getting cards and gifts in the mail early.

Early shopping and mailing insures pre-Christmas delivery, and at the same time eases the burden of all postal employees.

Wheat Surplus And Peace

BY POHN CHAMBERLAIN

The Latvians, who maintain a legation in the U.S. despite the lack of their ancient territorial home base on the Baltic Sea, call attention to a report from the Baltic port of Riga that ships bearing wheat from the U.S. to the Soviet Union are having tremendous difficulties unloading the grain. The dockside facilities are allegedly poor, railway transport is ramshackle, and freight cars are spilling wheat over the countryside.

The dateline "Riga" for such a report flashes a warning signal. It was from the Baltic states that New York Times correspondents, just after the Russian Revolution, kept predicting the imminent collapse of the Bolsheviks. Charles Merz, who later became the editor-in-chief of the Times, made his reputation as a journalist by joining with Walter Lippmann to expose the wishful thinking basis of the Times' Baltic dispatches.

However, even though the probabilities are that the grain will be unloaded and much of it used despite temporary dockside difficulties, Radio Liberty's very careful analysts make it plain that the Soviets will need a good grain year in 1973 in order to support new adventures in foreign belligerence. The big difference between the 1972 Soviet "harvest statistics, which have been uniformly good, and the strangely small "state purchase" figures in an indication that something has gone drastically wrong in the process of reaping and storing the grain.

The declared gross harvest is in the neighborhood of 168 million tons, which is only 10 per cent below the all-time high of 186.8 tons. But "State purchases" — meaning the delivery statistics from the farm collectives — come to only 53,000,000 metric tons. More than $10,000,000 tons of grain have vanished into thin air.

This, according to Radio Liberty's reading of Moscow's own statistical estimates, means that almost half of the 2800,000 metric tons of grain being imported by the Soviets will have to be stored as "disaster insurance" against another mediocre domestic "state purchase" year in 1973.

"State purchase" figures always differ from harvest figures to some degree, for the latter, in Radio Liberty's words, include "excessive moisture, unripe and damaged kernels, weed seeds, dirt, stones and other extraneous matter." But in 1972 the reported "bumper crop" (in parts of the Soviet Union) included an extraordinary "statistical fiction." According to Radio Liberty's Keith Bush, the peasants "reaped" millions of tons of "ice, mud, rocks, weed," which are things that not even livestock can eat. The Soviet press has reported the "heroism" of the Eastern farmers for harvesting a big crop in "the face of heavy rain and snow." But sudden sheaves rot quickly and, despite the fact that "literally millions of workers and employees from industry . . . not to mention students" were drafted to help with the harvest, the state had no recourse other than to buy grain in quantity from the U.S.

The so-called Virgin Lands of Kazakhstan did have a better procurement than usual owing to a dangerous but lucky gamble an overplanting is normally dry areas. But the lack of trucks and rail cars meant that tons of grain spoiled in the Kazakh fields. One State farm manager has reported receiving "25 truck loads of Kazakh grain in totally decayed condition and being forced to spend six months unloading it and spreading it for fertilizer."

Jumping from the Radio Liberty analysis of Moscow's grain statistics to Hanoi which is going to need quick food imports to stave off starvation once the port of Haiphong is reopened, the compulsion on North Vietnam to rely on the ultimate beneficence of the U.S. becomes clear. The Soviet Union will have very little food to spare for Hanoi. Australia and Argentina lack big exportable surpluses, and Canada has had to turn down some new orders. Finland's entire wheat surplus has been pledged to Russia. Only the U.S. has enough to keep North Vietnam's stomachs from shrinking. Surely this fact will be mirrored in the Indochinese settlement still hanging fire as this column is written.

During my regular menstrual period, I almost always have a series of nosebleeds. It seems strange, but is there a relationship between the two?

Miss V. R., N.J.

Dear Miss R.: Having a nosebleed during one's menstrual period is not an unusual occurrence. There is a condition known as "vicarious menstruation" during which bleeding occurs in other organs besides the uterus.

Bleeding from the breasts and from the intestinal tract have been reported as part of this phenomenon. Nosebleeds more commonly occur because there is a general congestion of the lining of the nose in many people during the menstrual cycle.

Many years ago, a condition referred to as the "nasogenital response" was described. In experimental animals it was found that it was actually possible to inhibit pregnancy by using certain drugs in the nose.

This drew further attention to the fact that in humans, nasal congestion and bleeding could be explained during the cycle. Although your condition does not seem to warrant concern, blood studies can easily show the absence of any bleeding tendency. This probably will give you a great deal of assurance.

A friend of mine has cirrhosis of the liver. He was not always a heavy drinker of alcohol. Are there other causes for this?

Mr. S. L., Ohio

Dear Mr. L.: The word "cirrhosis" is a descriptive one and refers to the orange-brown color of the liver when it is affected by this disorder.

The liver can be damaged by other substances besides alcohol. It is a most remarkable organ and has considerable reserve power that compensates for small areas of damage. But when alcohol in large quantities over a long period of time does damage to a large part of the liver, its function diminishes. Unfortunately, this process is not always reversible, even if the alcoholism is finally controlled.

There are other reasons besides alcohol for one of the many types of cirrhosis. Some drugs, toxic chemicals, infections, and untreated syphilis can affect the liver and cause the dire consequences of cirrhosis.

Prevention is the key to the preservation of this vital organ of the body.

The Business World

By LAURANCE F. STUNTZ (For John Cuniff)

NEW YORK (AP) — Generally speaking, commercial bank business could hardly be better today except for one thing: The federal government is looking bankers right in the eye and telling them not to raise prices.

The price of a bank's product is expressed in the interest rate, and that rate has slowly, almost imperceptibly moved higher in recent weeks. Moreover there appears to be enough demand to keep pressure building.

When demand for money rises, as with any product, there is a tendency for the price also to rise. At least that is the case when the economy is functioning freely which it is not as long as price controls exist.

Money, however, is like raw fruits and vegetables in that it is exempt from controls. Legally the banks can raise their prices within Federal Reserve guidelines and not have to explain their decision to anyone.

But the banks today are far more sensitive to public and governmental opinion than at almost any time in the past.

Consumers have money, and they must not be antagonized. The government has power and must not be offended.

For several months now the government has been reminding the bankers that it will be angered to the point of retaliation if they don't show as much reluctance to raise rates as customers are to pay them.

Arthur Burns, Federal Reserve Board chairman, has expressed himself on the matter as well he should since he heads the President's Committee on Interest and Dividends.

Implicit in talks the committee has been having with bankers is that failure to please the administration will result in a loss of their rate-making freedom.

With controls already existing on so many products, this threat obviously is not an idle one. An it is a stronger one that might immediately be evident.

The reason is that even without price controls, the Federal Reserve Board has the power to exert enormous pressure on banks by controlling the amount of money that is permitted to flow through them into the economy.

The Fed, that is, can limit the amount of goods that the bank has available for sale. To impose price controls on that product would mean they were being pressured at both ends, with a resulting negative impact on profits.

The smart money men understand that this would be the worst of worlds and that it must be avoided if banks are to continue the very healthy profits they have been reporting this year. They are obeying, but reluctantly.

Responsible financial analysts are forecasting an increase from 5.75 per cent to nearer 6 per cent in the prime rate, which is the lowest rate given to the best corporate customers.

So far the forecasts haven't been fulfilled, and as the list grows of banks that have reached agreements or understandings with federal officials, the likelihood of that 6 per cent rate becomes a bit more remote.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Listen, Grandpa, don't start telling me again about those good old days.

You've been wearing out my ears since I was a kid with your mushy nostalgia about how good those good old days were. Well, Grandpa, I finally got tired of it and went to the library and read some honest books about those good old days, as you call them. Let me tell you a few things about them you may have forgotten:

In those good old days cars didn't have heater in winter or air-conditioning in summer. It took you four hours to go 45 miles on a frozen country mud road in cold weather, with your feet freezing and the wind and snow blowing through the holes of cracked insulating windows.

There wasn't any radio or television in those good old days. A phonograph machine played only three minutes. Then you had to get up, put on another record, and wind the machine again by hand.

A doctor would make a house call all right, and for only $3, too, but if you were real sick with pneumonia or scarlet fever or diphtheria, there wasn't much he could do about it really. Most of the medicines then came in blue bottles, tasted brown — and didn't do much good.

In those good old days women wore tight corsets that made them feel all day like they were in the grip of an anaconda, and men wore high white collars so stiff with starch that their necks were rubbed raw most of the time.

When you went to church on Sunday, all the ministers ever talked about was how hard the devil was grabbing for your shirttail, how hot the coals of hell would be, and how much the church's missionaries were suffering in order to save the poor dark souls who dwelt in Africa.

Yes, and you heated your houses with stoves or a furnace in the basement, and you had to keep shoveling coal in them all day long, and the poor little kids spent half of their Saturday's hauling out the week's ashes.

And how about all those people who didn't have bathrooms in their houses, Granddad, and had to walk to a little hut away at the end of the backyard anytime they had to go? I'll bet when the snow was two feet deep they decided most of the time they didn't really have to go after all. Or at least not right away.

I hear that men had to work from 50 to 60 hours a week or more in those good old days. Grandpa, tell me, you lazy old rascal, did you really like doing that very much?

In those good old days, I read, the banks used to fail and even people who had saved up their money all their life had to spend their old age in a poor house or county farm. They didn't get a Social Security check from the government every month, or help in paying their sickness bills. You do though, don't you, Grandpa?

So why, Grandpa, you dear old fraud, do you go on calling those bad old days "the good old days"? You're lucky you managed to live through them!

The Amazon Basin of South America is an extensive, largely underpopulated and undeveloped region long suggested as the key to economic rejuvenation of the continent. Development is beginning, slowly but in ways which could have lasting impact.

Major highway construction in Brazil will link the northeast with the west through thousands of miles of roads. The benefits of accessibility to vast inland territory will spill over into adjoining nations.

Oil discoveries in the basin east of the Andes already have resulted in large extractions of crude oil in a half dozen countries, with the industry only beginning what is expected to be a long period of expansion.

Venezuela produced at the rate of 3.7 million barrels a day last year; Ecuador currently is extracting 250,000 barrels a day, and Peru may be outproducing both in another decade. Estimates of the capital needed to develop Peruvian strikes run over a billion dollars.

Two trans-Andean pipelines, one in Colombia and the other in Ecuador, have cost American oil companies a half billion dollars. The size of the investment confirms the belief the Amazon oil pool may be among the world's largest.

Yuletide Greetings

One of the popular by-products of Christmas is the greeting card. Often it is the only slender manifestation of friendship that survives the passing years.

With or without verse, ornate or plain, such cards are welcome visitors at all homes during the season of warm friendship and generosity. The custom of exchanging Christmas cards is so universally followed that it imposes a burden on postal workers for weeks before Christmas.

From now until Christmas postal workers will be too busy with the greeting cards and mailed gifts of other folk to get much fun out of the Yuletide season. That is unless everyone helps by getting cards and gifts in the mail early.

Early shopping and mailing insures pre-Christmas delivery, and at the same time eases the burden of all postal employees.

Wheat Surplus And Peace

BY POIN CHAMBERLAIN

The Latvians, who maintain a legation in the U.S. despite the lack of their ancient territorial home base on the Baltic Sea, call attention to a report from the Baltic port of Riga that ships bearing wheat from the U.S. to the Soviet Union are having tremendous difficulties unloading the grain. The dockside facilities are allegedly poor, railway transport is ransacked, and freight cars are spilling wheat over the countryside.

The dateline "Riga" for such a report flashes a warning signal. NEW YORK (AP) — Listen, Grandpa, don't start telling me again about those good old days.

You've been wearing out my ears since I was a kid with your mushy nostalgia about how good those good old days were. Well, Grandpa, I finally got tired of it and went to the library and read some honest books about those good old days, as you call them. Let me tell you a few things about them you may have forgotten:

In those good old days cars didn't have heater in winter or air-conditioning in summer. It took you four hours to go 45 miles on a frozen country mud road in cold weather, with your feet freezing and the wind and snow blowing through the holes of cracked insulating windows.

There wasn't any radio or television in those good old days. A phonograph machine played only three minutes. Then you had to get up, put on another record, and wind the machine again by hand.

A doctor would make a house call all right, and for only $3, too, but if you were real sick with pneumonia or scarlet fever or diphtheria, there wasn't much he could do about it really. Most of the medicines then came in blue bottles, tasted brown — and didn't do much good.

In those good old days women wore tight corsets that made them feel all day like they were in the grip of an anaconda, and men wore high white collars so stiff with starch that their necks were rubbed raw most of the time.

Four men were injured in a minor explosion and flash fire in the offices of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co.

Fumes from a clearing fluid used by a janitorial service were believed to have been ignited by a spark from a floor scrubber, causing the fire.

The Circleville Parking Lot Corporation increased the capacity for parking cars by 25 per cent at the W. Franklin St. lot.

Sirloin steak was selling in the local markets for 89 cents per pound.

Boys from the Pickaway County Childrens Home spent a day cutting 150 Christmas trees from the tree plantation of Mead Corporation in Vinton County.

The trees were being sold at the Children's Home.

The Ohio Agricultural Research and Development

When you went to church on Sunday, all the ministers ever talked about was how hard the devil was grabbing for your shirttail, how hot the coals of hell would be, and how much the church's missionaries were suffering in order to save the poor dark souls who dwelt in Africa.

Yes, and you heated your houses with stoves or a furnace in the basement, and you had to keep shoveling coal in them all day long, and the poor little kids spent half of their Saturday hauling out the week's ashes.

And how about all those people who didn't have bathrooms in their houses, Granddad, and had to walk to a little hut away at the end of the backyard anytime they had to go? I'll bet when the snow was two feet deep they decided most of the time they didn't really have to go after all. Or at least not right away.

I hear that men had to work from 50 to 60 hours a week or more in those good old days, Grandpa. Tell me, you lazy old rascal, did you really like doing that very much?

In those good old days, I read, the banks used to fail and even people who had saved up their money all their life had to spend their old age in a poor house or county farm. They didn't get a Social Security check from the government every month, or help in paying their sickness bills. You do though, don't you, Grandpa?

So why, Grandpa, you dear old fraud, do you go on calling those bad old days "the good old days"? You're lucky you managed to live through them!

Health Care Cost Duplication Hit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Asst. U.S. Surgeon General Harold Granning said Wednesday Ohio could prevent costly duplication of health facilities and unnecessary services if the legislature would adopt the concept of "certification of need."

Granning explained to an Ohio Comprehensive Health Planning Conference that the certification regulation would prohibit construction of new health care facilities without prior approval of health planning agencies.

Ohio Health Director John Cashman said a task force appointed by Gov. John Gilligan to study the issue is expected to make recommendations to the legislature regarding the certification regulations by early spring.

Turnpike Commission Says Revenues Rise

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Turnpike Commission says toll receipts during the five-day Thanksgiving holiday were more than $500,000, a new high.

The previous mark was set in 1971. Commission Chairman James Shocksness says 390,000 drivers used the toll road during the long holiday weekend.

Kingston Building And Loan To Become Commercial Bank

Kingston Building and Loan Company will become a commercial bank office according to plans announced by Dwight N. Famulener President of the company, and George E. Armstrong, President of Adelphi National Bank.

Approval of the Kingston facility has been announced by the Comptroller of the Currency, federal regulatory authority of national banks.

Famulener explained, "Consolidation with The Adelphi National Bank will bring expanded banking services to Kingston area residents. New services will include checking accounts, farm loans, and consumer loan counseling." The name will be The Ross County National Bank.

The Kingston office will be the second office of The Adelphi National Bank, according to Armstrong. Founded in 1907 by Armstrong's grandfather, The Adelphi National Bank is an affiliate of American Bancorporation, a Columbus based bank holding company. Armstrong said, "Extension of commercial banking services to residents of the Kingston community will enable the Adelphi National Bank to better serve residents of Ross County." Armstrong stated that the consolidation must be approved by bank regulatory authorities. Theodore R. Saker, President of American Bancorporation, said, "American Bancorporation is delighted with the plan. The combined institutions will be able to provide increased services to Ross County residents. By joining together they will be better able to facilitate economic development in Ross County."

Kingston is the major retail trade and commerce center between Chillicothe and Circleville, and is located in the fastest growing area of Ross County. Green Township grew 23.4 per cent between 1960-1970, compared to state of Ohio growth of 9.7 per cent.

American Bancorporation is composed of a group of community banks which have joined together to take advantage of centralized operations. Each individual bank maintains its board of directors, management, and local identity.

In addition to Adelphi National Bank, other American Bancorporation affiliates include The Harpster Bank in Wyandot County; The Huntsville State Bank in Logan County; and The Dime Bank in Marietta, Washington County.

Affiliation of The Farmers State Bank of McClure, McClure, Ohio was recently approved by the Board of Governors of The Federal Reserve System.

Additional planned affiliate banks are The Continental Bank in Putnam County; The Morristown Bank in Belmont County; and a proposed new bank being organized in Columbus. If and when these acquisitions are approved by various bank regulatory authorities, American Bancorporation will have total consolidated assets of over $57 million.

Nature lovers and cooks will find many interesting titles among the new books that have come into the library this week. A naturalist and a photographer combine forces to describe East Africa, past and present, and the search there for man's origins. Peter Matthiessen is the author of "The Tree Where Man Was Born: The African Experience." Elliot Porter is the naturalist photographer whose color pictures capture vistas of mountains, valley, plains and details of human, animal and plant life in East Africa.

"The Whale: Mighty Monarch of the Sea" by Jacques-Yves Cousteau and Philippe Diol is the latest volume in the Cousteau series of underwater adventures. It is illustrated with 125 full color and 20 black and white photographs. It records in detail the size, temperament, intelligence, speed and love life of the whale. Many whales are studied from the gray whales of the Baja California coast to the Pacific sperm whales and the Orcas or killer whales.

"Birds of North America" by Dr. Austin L. Rand, retired Chief Curator of Zoology at the Field Museum of Natural History records many fascinating details about birdlore. It is a useful guide to the identification and behavior of familiar American species. Presented in a similar format is Robert T. Orr's "Mammals of North America." Dr. Orr is Chairman of the Department of Mammals and Birds, California Academy of Sciences. Both books have superb photographs in color and black and white which will entice those who like to browse, as well as those who seek information.

Glady's Taber's many fans will be interested in "My Own Cook Book: From Stillmeadow and Cape Cod." Mrs. Taber shares some of the best recipes from her Stillmeadow and Still Cove kitchens. The dishes are simple to make, and Mrs. Taber adds comments for preparation and menu suggestions.

Renewed public interest in natural foods, coupled with a sense of nostalgia, is probably partly responsible for the many books on country cooking and natural foods which have been published recently. "The Complete Sourdough Cookbook" by Don and Myrtle Holm is one such book. If you really want to start from "scratch," this is the book for you. "Starter" is very simple to make and only takes about 60 seconds. Put two cups of flour into a room-temperature crock or jar. Add 2½ cups lukewarm water and set the batch in a warm but not hot place, and you have set up your own private yeast factory. From this beginning you can make all kinds of delectable flapjacks, biscuits, bread, cookies, and doughnuts. These recipes are excellent for camp and trail cooking as well as kitchen.

Another series of country cookbooks are by the Food Editors of Farm Journal. These attractive small books have a wide variety of recipes—some using new quick methods—others using methods mother or grandmother used. The titles in this series are: "Cook Ahead Country Style," "Choice Candy From Your Own Kitchen," "Breads Like Mother Used to Make," "Especially For Company," and "Pies You'll Be Proud Of."

There is nostalgia in fiction too. "The Young Visitors" by Daisy Ashford is the re-issue of a romantic novel written by a nine year old girl in Victorian England. It is the story of Bernard Clark, who is 29 and rich with nice leg. It also concerns Ethel Monticue, a sweet young thing of 17 and Mr. Saltanna, "an elderly man of 42" who is "not quite a gentleman."

Miss World Security Net Tight

LONDON (AP) — An iron curtain of security surrounds the beauties competing tonight in London for the title of Miss World.

The 53 girls vying for what is claimed to be the richest crown in the beauty business were presented briefly to photographers and newsmen last Sunday, then whisked away.

In previous years, the Miss World contestants could be seen going around London taking in the sights. They were readily available for interviews at their hotel, and almost anyone could walk in and ask to meet them.

This year Mecca Limited, the organizers, allowed only one day for interviews. Each reporter was closely scrutinized and issued a special pass bearing his or her photograph.

"It was much too casual in the past," a Mecca spokesman said. "I think it would be tempting fate to go on as we did. The beauty contest makes a splendid platform for any lunatic group to put its message across."

The most obvious target for attack is Chana Ordan, the 17-year-old student representing Israel. Neither the Israeli Embassy nor Scotland Yard would comment on security arrangements for the green-eyed blonde, but a police spokesman said all the girls were being carefully guarded.

Mrs. H. O. Caldwell Is Republican Club Speaker

A large number of Pickaway County Women's Republican Club members and visitors were present to enjoy the gala Victory Carry-in Luncheon, Monday, Nov. 27th at Calvary United Methodist Church in Circleville.

Mrs. H. O. Caldwell opened business with the poem "Let's Give." Mrs. Homer Reber led in giving the Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag and prayer was said by Mrs. Merley Congrove. Orders were accepted in elephants that were displayed.

Mrs. Susan Riley Weed, 15th District State Senator, Committee woman sent regards and Mrs. Bobby Paul, State President of Republican Women of Ohio, Inc., gave comments and statistics of her neighbor to neighbor campaign work.

A vote of thanks was extended hostesses this day: Mrs. Sara M. Driesbach, Mrs. Merley Congrove and Mrs. Mildred Hatfield.

The next club meeting, Dec. 18th, will be a covered-dish luncheon again in the social room of Calvary United Methodist Church. Members were asked to bring Christmas wrapped gift packages to be given to Orient State Institute. Chairman of hostesses will be: Mrs. E. William Densch, Mrs. Jess H. Hancock, Mrs. Lucille Lake and Mrs. Merley Congrove.

The program was presented by Mrs. Caldwell who gave a travelogue "Flying Down to Rio and Other Romantic Cities in South America". The tour was 30 days long flying all the way, a distance of 10,000 miles, traveling down the east coast, crossing over, and up the west coast.

The natives are very courteous, formal and the men always wear a suit. Siesta is observed daily by closing all businesses from 12:30 to 3:30 or 4 p.m., after which they remain open until 7 or 9 p.m.

It was a thrilling experience to spend the New Year's holidays in Rio de Janeiro, the capital of Portuguese Brazil, which covers half of South America. It is a city of beauty, white buildings, a standard 12 stories high, swigly mosaic walks, blue water and purple mountains. On New Year's Eve, the religious promenade featuring the Virgin Mary, lighted torches and church relics on the famous Copacabana Beach was witnessed from the patio of the Excelsior Hotel.

It seemed ludicrous to view the holiday decorations amid all the gorgeous flowers. Rio's main commodity is its wealth of semi-precious gems such as aquamarine, topaz, amethyst, emeralds, etc.

One of the landmarks, standing guardian over the bay is Christ the Redeemer statue cast in metal. It is located on Corcovado Mountain, altitude 2,400 ft., total weight 1,145 tons.

Solons Seek Way To Avoid Failure Of Pay Hike Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Leaders of the outgoing legislature may propose a bill that would permit lawmakers to be reimbursed for their expenses in Columbus on a "per diem," or daily basis, House Speaker Charles Kurfess, R-4 Perryburg, said.

The speaker said Wednesday the proposal has been discussed although there is some question as to whether it would be constitutional. He said he doesn't know if it would be. "It could be tried," he said.

A provision in the Ohio Constitution prohibits members of the legislature from receiving "any allowances" beyond their fixed compensation. Courts have allowed them mileage to and from their homes, however, interpreting that to be part of their fixed compensation. Leaders think expenses might be allowed on the same basis.

The legislature now is awaiting a report from the newly created compensation commission which will recommend what the salaries of public officials in Ohio should be.

The commission, created by the legislature earlier this year, is in the process of studying salary levels and may submit a report as early as Friday, the date of its next meeting, officials said. "We won't do anything until we get their report," Kurfess said.

Earlier Wednesday, the commission chairman, Howard Collier, told a convention of county engineers and commissioners the panel "will not recommend anything that is contrary to Pay Board guidelines."

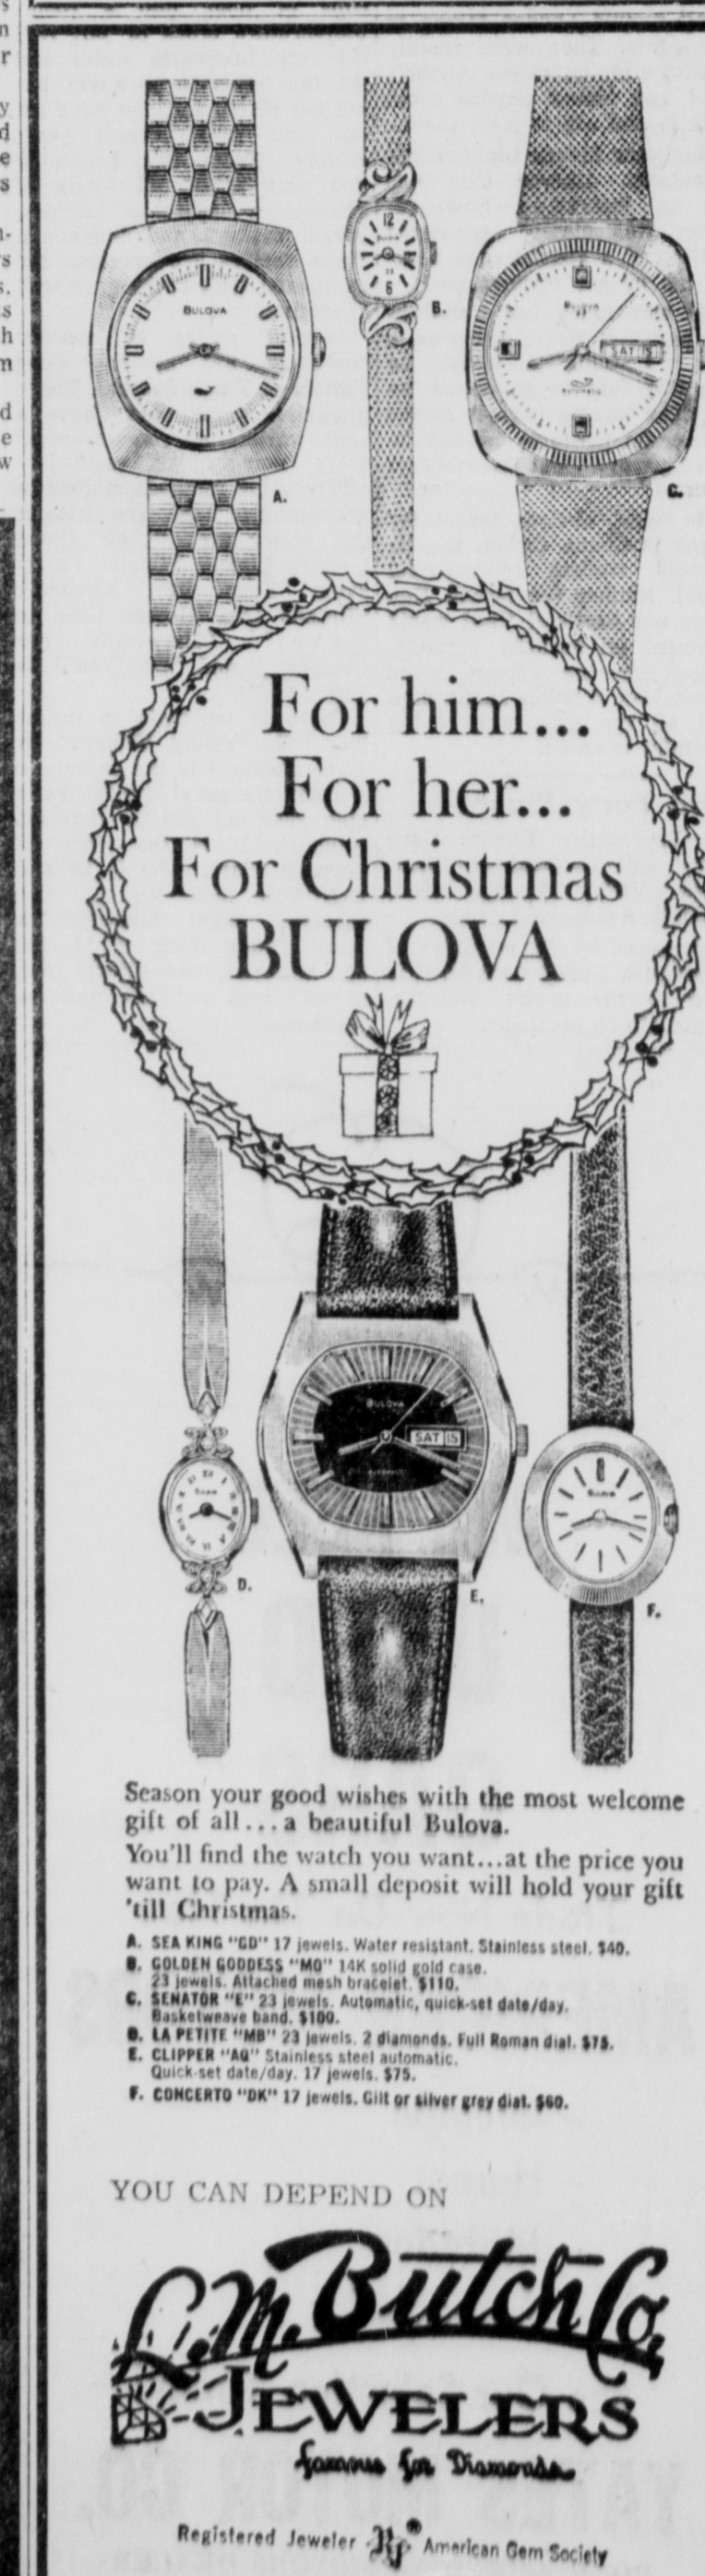

It was suggested during commission hearings last week that the salaries of elected county officials are not governed by federal wage regulations. But the Ohio Department of Personnel was told the regulations do apply.

Set Fire Code Hearing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Commerce Director Dennis Shaul has scheduled a public hearing Jan. 15 on Ohio's first state fire code. The code would consolidate and simplify existing rules governing the state fire marshal and firefighting agencies in the state.

Mustang Country Majorettes End Season

The Mustang majorettes have just finished a season of tremendous effort and fine work.

Bev McDill, head majorette for three years, is now in her senior year of high school. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don McDill of Williamsport.

Bev is an active member of marching, stage, concert and pep bands, a three year officer for FFA, member of the student council, participant in GAA basketball, volleyball and track, where she still holds six records in girls track. She also holds a SVC track record. As editor of the school newspaper, Bev has a very busy schedule in addition to being a sports girl.

After graduation, Bev has plans to do secretarial work before she marries Rick Hanley.

When Bev was asked how it feels not to be twirling anymore she answered "There is a feeling of emptiness — no more football games or parades. Since twirling has become a part of my life, I will substitute it by teaching baton lessons for YMCA and directing their drill team."

Tracy Fraas, majorette for one year, resides with her parents Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Fraas of Route 1, Williamsport. Her school activities include Drama Club, Ski Club, GAA, Science Club. The most important things that have happened to Tracy are becoming a Christian and J. M. Tracy is a freshman this year.

Melanie Bliss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irus Bliss, is in her senior year of high school and has been a majorette for all those four years.

The Mustang majorettes have just finished a season of tremendous effort and fine work.

Bev McDill, head majorette for three years, is now in her senior year of high school. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don McDill of Williamsport.

Gilligan Announces Awards For Outstanding Service

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John J. Gilligan announced Thursday his own awards program to recognize outstanding community service by Ohioans.

"Thousands of our fellow Ohioans contribute their talent, time and energy to helping their fellow citizens, and most of them are never properly recognized for their contributions," Gilligan said.

He said he hoped the award series, called the Governor's Award for Community Action, would bring recognition to such citizens.

Nominations for the award may be submitted by state agencies by news media, and by citizens who feel a fellow citizen deserves special recognition.

The award consists of a personal letter from the governor written on parchment and bearing the Seal of Ohio.

Gilligan personally presented awards to six Ohioans. They were:

—Robert Colucci of Farmersville, who personally finances a back-up ambulance service in Montgomery County, at no charge to residents.

—Mrs. Kathryn Corbin of Hopedale for saving the life of a four-year-old boy trapped in a burning home.

—Danny King of Elmswood Place, at 90 perhaps the oldest active fireman in the United States.

—Lora V. Murphy of Cleveland, Ohio Teacher of the Year for 1972.

—State Highway Patrol Capt. Joseph J. Szabo of Westerville, originator of the Highway Patrol's aviation program.

—Darrel Young of Bidwell, chosen Outstanding Young Farmer by the Gallipolis Area Jaycees.

The awards program will be coordinated through the Department of Economic and Community Development, Gilligan said.

Lemon juice helps prevent pared apples and pears from browning; it does the same job for peeled bananas. Either dip the cut-up fruit in the juice or pour the juice over the fruit.

LOST PUPPY FOUND

The puppy had been gone for hours. A small boy stood, nose pressed against the screen, staring at the empty evening. Then softer than a breath of air, beyond the hedge came a whimper. The door slammed, footsteps raced, and the moment exploded in yelping, wiggling delight.

Can you measure the joy of a lost puppy found? If happiness could be weighted or ruled, this surely would be an instant worth distilling. And how about that first glimpse of your newborn? the flash of adoration at the beauty of a Sunday's anthem? that glowing second when the naughtiest little boy in Sunday School takes your hand and says, "I love you"?

High moments can't be assessed by material standards. But each inspiring revelation of God's love brings us closer to understanding Him and the Truth of His whole creation. That's why it is important to go to church.

Gilligan Announces Awards For Outstanding Service

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John J. Gilligan announced Thursday his own awards program to recognize outstanding community service by Ohioans.

"Thousands of our fellow Ohioans contribute their talent, time and energy to helping their fellow citizens, and most of them are never properly recognized for their contributions," Gilligan said.

He said he hoped the award series, called the Governor's Award for Community Action, would bring recognition to such citizens.

Nominations for the award may be submitted by state agencies by news media, and by citizens who feel a fellow citizen deserves special recognition.

The award consists of a personal letter from the governor written on parchment and bearing the Seal of Ohio.

Gilligan personally presented awards to six Ohioans. They were: —Robert Colucci of Farmerville, who personally finances a back-up ambulance service in Montgomery County, at no charge to residents.

—Mrs. Kathryn Corbin of Hopedale for saving the life of a four-year-old boy trapped in a burning home.

—Danny King of Elmswood Place, at 90 perhaps the oldest active fireman in the United States.

—Lora V. Murphy of Cleveland, Ohio Teacher of the Year for 1972.

—State Highway Patrol Capt. Joseph J. Szabo of Westerville, originator of the Highway Patrol's aviation program.

—Darrel Young of Bidwell, chosen Outstanding Young Farmer by the Gallipolis Area Jaycees.

The awards program will be coordinated through the Department of Economic and Community Development, Gilligan said.

Lemon juice helps prevent pared apples and pears from browning; it does the same job for peeled bananas. Either dip the cut-up fruit in the juice or pour the juice over the fruit.

LOST PUPPY FOUND

The puppy had been gone for hours. A small boy stood, nose pressed against the screen, staring at the empty evening. Then softer than a breath of air, beyond the hedge came a whimper. The door slammed, footsteps raced, and the moment exploded in yelping, wiggling delight.

Can you measure the joy of a lost puppy found? If happiness could be weighted or ruled, this surely would be an instant worth distilling. And how about that first glimpse of your newborn? the flash of adoration at the beauty of a Sunday's anthem? that glowing second when the naughtiest little boy in Sunday School takes your hand and says, "I love you"?

High moments can't be assessed by material standards. But each inspiring revelation of God's love brings us closer to understanding Him and the Truth of His whole creation. That's why it is important to go to church.

Former Astronaut Has Ground Problems

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — Former astronaut James B. Irwin, who has flown to the moon and back, had some problems getting back to ground level in an elevator.

Irwin, here on a business trip, spoke to a civic group Wednesday on the eighth floor of the Eola Hotel. As he and some companions tried to leave, the elevator would not move.

Cincinnati Mayor Leaves Position

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Thomas Luken, who has resigned to permit Councilman Theodore Berry to become Cincinnati's first black mayor, says one year was enough.

"In some ways, it was an advantage to be mayor for only a year," said Luken, a Democrat, and an attorney.

"This is a part-time job, sort of a citizen job, with minimal compensation. Unless you're a Rockefeller you can't afford it very long. Having the job only a year lets you take a sabbatical and concentrate hard."

The Youth of the Zion United Methodist Church once again entertained seventy-five persons of the community to a pre-Thanksgiving dinner November 23. The dinner was served in the church basement to the senior citizens of the community and several dinners were taken to the home of shut-ins. Some of those in attendance may not appreciate being called senior citizens but those invited included those who live alone or couples whose families are not near, etc. All reported the dinner quite delicious. It is so nice to report on Youth, such as these in our Village.

The Church Council of the First English Lutheran Church will meet in Tuesday, at 7:30 p.m. in the Parish Hall.

Foundations Lose $16 Million Suit To Cancer Hunter

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Dr. John J. Wild, awarded more than $16 million because his cancer research was blocked, puffed contentedly on his pipe and vowed to use the money "to carry on my work."

"I lost the best 10 years of my life in this fight, but I still have 20 years left," the 58-year-old doctor said Wednesday after a jury awarded him what Judge Tom Bergin called the largest amount ever made to an individual plaintiff in a defamation action.

The Hennepin District Court jury returned the verdict after a day and a half of deliberations and a six-week trial involving two foundations that withdrew their sponsorship from Wild's federal grant in 1964.

Wild was heading a team trying to develop an ultrasonic machine which could rapidly scan a patient to determine instantly whether she had breast cancer.

Former Astronaut Has Ground Problems

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — Former astronaut James B. Irwin, who has flown to the moon and back, had some problems getting back to ground level in an elevator.

Irwin, here on a business trip, spoke to a civic group Wednesday on the eighth floor of the Eola Hotel. As he and some companions tried to leave, the elevator would not move.

Cincinnati Mayor Leaves Position

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Thomas Luken, who has resigned to permit Councilman Theodore Berry to become Cincinnati's first black mayor, says one year was enough.

"In some ways, it was an advantage to be mayor for only a year," said Luken, a Democrat, and an attorney.

"This is a part-time job, sort of a citizen job with minimal compensation. Unless you're a Rockefeller you can't afford it very long. Having the job only a year lets you take a sabbatical and concentrate hard."

The Youth of the Zion United Methodist Church once again entertained seventy-five persons of the community to a pre-Thanksgiving dinner November 23. The dinner was served in the church basement to the senior citizens of the community and several dinners were taken to the home of shut-ins. Some of those in attendance may not appreciate being called senior citizens but those invited included those who live alone or couples whose families are not near, etc. All reported the dinner quite delicious. It is so nice to report on Youth, such as these in our Village.

The Church Council of the First English Lutheran Church will meet in Tuesday, at 7:30 p.m. in the Parish Hall.

Foundations Lose $16 Million Suit To Cancer Hunter

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Dr. John J. Wild, awarded more than $16 million because his cancer research was blocked, puffed contentedly on his pipe and vowed to use the money "to carry on my work."

"I lost the best 10 years of my life in this fight, but I still have 20 years left," the 58-year-old doctor said Wednesday after a jury awarded him what Judge Tom Bergin called the largest amount ever made to an individual plaintiff in a defamation action.

The Hennepin District Court jury returned the verdict after a day and a half of deliberations and a six-week trial involving two foundations that withdrew their sponsorship from Wild's federal grant in 1964.

Wild was heading a team trying to develop an ultrasonic machine which could rapidly scan a patient to determine instantly whether she had breast cancer.

The Red and Black

Coach Bell Welcomes 9 Lettermen

The Circleville wrestling program for 72-73 has begun with Coach Brent Bell welcoming back nine returning lettermen to form the nucleus of this year's team.

The Tigers, who were last year's district runners-up, are led by tri-captains: Gary Mogan, Tom Frericks and Dave Webb who had a combined record last year of 82-16. Other returning lettermen are: Stuart Moore, Joe Smith, Roger Davis, Mark Scherer, Jim Payne and Steve Walters.

In the SCOL the Tigers are defending champions and are picked to repeat. The competition will be supplied by Miami Trace and Wilmington.

In the district the Tigers will be returning with runners-up Frericks and Webb, third place finishers, Steve Walters and Jim Payne, and fourth place finisher Gary Mogan.

In past years the Tigers have had some excellent teams, but the student support has not been what it should; so, come out and support this year's team. The open meet will be Dec. 9 at Reynoldsburg.

Tiger Cagers Win 1st Game

Circleville's 1972-73 Tigers captured their first win of the season over Westfall 77-45.

The Tigers were never seriously threatened as they jumped out to a 47-14 halftime lead. A half-court pressing defense contributed greatly to the insurmountable lead.

The Red and Black had a balanced scoring effort as the entire team contributed. The scoring was led by Dave Truex's 18 and Dan Graham's 16 points. The entire team played and everyone received valuable game experience.

Tonight the Tigers tangle with always tough Wilmington in their first SCOL game. The Hurricanes have a veteran team, as four of their five starters played last year. The Tigers will have to contain their high scoring set of guards, Billy McClery and Robert Raizk, and keep their big 6-foot 4-inch, 210-pound center off the boards.

Other games around the league are Hillsboro at Miami Trace and Greenfield at Washington C. H.

CHS Tiger Band Concludes Season With Santa Parade

By JUNE BRUDZINSKI
With the Jaycee Christmas parade last Friday, the CHS Tiger Band concluded a busy and successful marching season.

The 1972 season began early in August when the group spent a week at Rio Grande College learning new shows and techniques. After several weeks of hard evening practices, the Tigers then entered the Ohio State Fair Marching Band Contest for the first time and placed in the top six Class AA bands. Even Mayor Barnhill was on hand to greet the four bus loads of happy students when they brought $350 and a trophy signifying their "excellent" rating back to Circleville.

Capacity crowds gathered to watch the Marching Tigers' winning performance at the 20th annual Band Preview on Sept. 1.

When school started, the band switched to one and a half to two hours of practice each afternoon in preparation for their football halftime shows. They played at every game, both home and away, in all kinds of weather. Field commanders Kathy Penn and Jill Hoffman led the majorettes color guard, Tigerettes and playing bandmen throughout the season as they continue to impress home and rival spectators. Washington CH fans, who have been unfriendly to the Tigers in past years, even gave them a standing ovation after one especially brilliant show on the Blue Lion field, and Wilmington's newspaper complimented them on their improvement from three years ago.

Tiger band members showed their spirit in Homecoming festivities as they led the Snake Dance and played at the Bonfire. Several weeks later, their enthusiasm gained them the coveted Spirit Stick and even carried over into the Halloween Parade on Oct. 30.

At Pumpkin Show the musical marchers braved 12 miles of cold, wet streets as they led five parades and presented two concerts.

In their last home appearance on Nov. 2, senior bandmen were honored for their accomplishments. The crowd paid them a final tribute in a standing ovation after one of the Tiger Band's finest performances.

Mr. Dean summed it all up by saying, "Last year our aim was to progress from a good band to a great band. I feel we have achieved this goal, and now we must become an even better-performing band to gain first place at the State Fair in 1973."

Station officials said the objectionable portions, however, will be deleted.

Capacity crowds gathered to watch the Marching Tigers' winning performance at the 20th annual Band Preview on Sept. 1.

When school started, the band switched to one and a half to two hours of practice each afternoon in preparation for their football halftime shows. They played at every game, both home and away, in all kinds of weather. Field commanders Kathy Penn and Jill Hoffman led the majorettes color guard, Tigerettes and playing bandmen throughout the season as they continue to impress home and rival spectators. Washington CH fans, who have been unfriendly to the Tigers in past years, even gave them a standing ovation after one especially brilliant show on the Blue Lion field, and Wilmington's newspaper complimented them on their improvement from three years ago.

Tiger band members showed their spirit in Homecoming festivities as they led the Snake Dance and played at the Bonfire. Several weeks later, their enthusiasm gained them the coveted Spirit Stick and even carried over into the Halloween Parade on Oct. 30.

At Pumpkin Show the musical marchers braved 12 miles of cold, wet streets as they led five parades and presented two concerts.

In their last home appearance on Nov. 2, senior bandmen were honored for their accomplishments. The crowd paid them a final tribute in a standing ovation after one of the Tiger Band's finest performances.

Mr. Dean summed it all up by saying, "Last year our aim was to progress from a good band to a great band. I feel we have achieved this goal, and now we must become an even better-performing band to gain first place at the State Fair in 1973."

The foot in football is rapidly taking over the game and in our humble opinion the excitement of the clash is disappearing as fast as snow flakes on a hot sidewalk. This is especially true in the play for pay ranks.

What used to be a game played on a 100-yard grid-iron is dwindling to a 50-yard battle due to the prowess of the new sidewheeling kickers in the game.

Once upon a time the fans sat on the edges of their seats as their favorite team raced, roared, romped and razzle dazzled its way down the field with one thing in mind — Get the ball across the goal line.

When they crossed the 50-yard line, they began to smell the endzone and drooled like a hungry kid waiting for the first batch of cookies to come out of the oven.

Now it's get the ball to the 50 and don't strain yourself as the bunion booter will come off the bench and bail you out.

In a recent clash, the Bengals defeated the Steelers with Horst Muhlman booting five field goals to account for all the Cincinnati points.

Doesn't that tear you up? That generates about as much commotion as the left needle dropping a stitch in a tight sewing match.

How about moving the goal posts to the back of the endzone? At least it will make them grind out another 10 yards before they go into the shoe business.

One of the most exciting plays in football is the kick-off return and now the long booters are beginning to remove this from the scene.

What a thrill it is to see the runner take the kickoff, look for his wall of blockers and suddenly break into the open as the crowd roars "He's gone!"

More and more this is falling by the wayside as the kicker sends the ball through the endzone and the crowd applauds the stirring promenade of the officials to the 20-yard stripe.

What about kicking off from the 30 instead of the 40? — Could put the kickoff return back in the game.

We love the game but feel something should be done before it turns into a tussle of toe tappers.

Don James Wins MAC Grid Honor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Even Don James who was selected Mid-American Coach of the Year Thursday, admits his Kent State football rebuilding program is well ahead of schedule.

"In all honesty," James, 39, said, "I thought it would take five years."

James has the Flashes enjoying their first conference crown in only his second year on the job. For that accomplishment, he was named on 38 of 39 MAC News Media Association ballots as the No. 1 coach.

Don Nehlen of runnerup Bowling Green was selected on the other ballot.

Kent State Athletic Director Mike Luke isn't surprised at James' feat.

"He's a total coach," said Luke. "Don deserves it. What does surprise me, though, is the rapidity with which he has moved our football program."

James took time from preparations for a Tangerine Bowl date Dec. 29 in Orlando, Fla., with Tampa to salute his players.

"Players win trophies for coaches," he said. "It's a tribute to my staff and our players."

During the past week, four teams — including defending champion Minnesota — made their debuts in a season expected to sparkle with the most talented and experienced player crop in Big Ten history.

Iowa gets the jump this weekend opening tonight against visiting Chicago State.

Among the Saturday inaugurals are home contests for Michigan against Notre Dame; Illinois against DePaul; Indiana playing Harvard and Purdue facing Indiana State.

Northwestern starts on the road against Butler.

Also on Saturday's card, two early Big Ten winners have home tilts—Minnesota facing Western Michigan and Michigan State engaging tough Kentucky.

Once-beaten Wisconsin is host to Southern Illinois of Edwardsville.

Led by reinstated Ron Behagen and Olympian Jim Brewer Minnesota last Saturday opened with a 93-71 conquest of California-Irvine. Behagen scored 26 points in his first start since a Big Ten benching last season following a big Gopher brawl with Ohio State.

Goal Doesn't Count For Ron Ward Bonus

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Every time Ron Ward scores a goal for the New York Raiders in the World Hockey Association he probably mutters, "Shucks."

The leading goal scorer in the WHA with 21 has a contract that doesn't include a bonus clause for goals.

"Shucks," Ward said after he had scored twice to lead the Raiders to a 5-2 victory over the Minnesota Fighting Saints Thursday night. "I signed as a defenseman and there's no bonus clause for goals in my contract."

Steelers Will Beat Browns Says Forecaster

NEW YORK (AP) — Pittsburgh will crack the Cleveland Browns' six-game victory streak 27-20 in Sunday's showdown, almost assuring the Steelers of a National Football League playoff invitation. Ginning from last week's 12-1 prediction record, that's our call on the American Conference Central Division showdown where even the loser has a shot at a post-season berth.

Los Angeles-San Francisco is a Monday night game and, being a Steve Spurrier believer from his 1966 Heisman Trophy year at Florida, I go with the 49ers 27-20.

Here's a game-by-game look with a pumped-up percentage of .737 after missing only the New Orleans upset of the Rams last weekend:

STEELERS 27, BROWNS 20—Pittsburgh hasn't lost at Three Rivers Stadium this year and the combination of Franco Harris' running and a bullish Steeler defense will make me go with them over Cleveland every time.

FORTY-NINERS 27, RAMS 20—The heat won't get to Spurrier and the guy is a born winner. San Francisco will blow it if John Brodie is returned to duty at quarterback.

PACKERS 17, LIONS 14—Another showdown and Green Bay will take it on a Chester Marcol field goal. Now doesn't that sound positive?

FALCONS 27, OILERS 10—Poor Bill Peterson. The likable former Florida State and Rice coach doesn't deserve to be No. 26 in a 26-team league.

RAIDERS 34, CHARGERS 21—Oakland wraps it up amazingly early in the AFC West.

DOLPHINS 27, PATRIOTS 0—Minutemen are flailed by the 60-minute men as Miami bags its 12th straight en route to a possible 14-0 regular season.

REDSKINS 37, EAGLES 10—No contest as Washington inches nearer NFC East crown and host role for a first-round playoff game Christmas Eve.

VIKINGS 21, BEARS 10—Chicago long ago wasted away and Minnesota still clings to hope for playoffs despite loss to Steelers last week.

COWBOYS 27, CARDS 10—St. Louis is almost to hopeless stage and Dallas can't afford to think about losing before rematch with Redskins, if then.

BENGALS 10, GIANTS 7—New York's playoff hopes perish.

JETS 28, SAINTS 21—But, Jets alive for another week.

CHIEFS 24, BRONCOS 17—Kansas City has to save face now since it'll be watching the playoffs on TV.

COLTS 20, BILLS 14—The Marty Domres Era folks from Baltimore make it three straight as General Manager Joe Thomas keeps saying, "I knew I was right."

Central Michigan Faces Miami

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An overtime loss at title-favoring Ohio University has stripped Central Michigan of an ally for its basketball trip to Miami of Ohio Saturday night.

"It's the element of surprise. We've lost one of our best weapons," Dick Parfitt said after the big scare, his Chippewas threw at the touted Bobcats.

The Central Michigan-Miami affair is the only Mid-American contest this weekend.

The non-conference clashes Saturday send MacMurray to Bowling Green, Eastern Michigan to Toledo, Marietta to Kent State and Ohio to Youngstown.

Primarily because they were unknown, the Chippewas were cast into last place in pre-season Mid-American predictions. That bugs Ben Kelso, Central Michigan's star guard.

The 6-foot-3 Kelso, who scored 23 points at Ohio, dislikes the Chips' predicted lowly stature.

"It's embarrassing," he said. "People picked us last because they said they don't know much about us. All they had to do was look in our press book."

Jim Snyder, Ohio's conference coaching dean, admitted he underestimated Central Michigan.

"They were much more physical on the boards than we thought they would be," he said. "They shot well and get down the floor with good fast breaks."

Since the conference title is decided by percentage, the Chips can ill afford another Mid-American setback. They play only 10 games inside the league, compared to 11 for Ohio and Miami and 12 for the rest of the members.

"Playing only 10 conference games is our biggest handicap," Parfitt said. "And Miami and Ohio don't have to come to our place this season."

Seven games, including Ohio State's visit to Washington, are on tap tonight as Ohio colleges head into first full weekend of basketball activity.

The Buckeyes, who whipped Wisconsin-Milwaukee 92-81 earlier this week, will run into UCLA's chief challengers in the Pac-8 Conference in 1973-73.

In other contests tonight, Wheeling is at Xavier, Wooster at Hiram, Bethany at Denison, Baldwin-Wallace at John Carroll, Wilberforce at Central State and Defiance in the McKenzie (Tenn.) Tournament.

Major independents Dayton and Cincinnati open their campaigns Saturday.

The Flyers entertain Illinois State. The Bearcats take on visiting Cleveland State, pummeled by Miami 83-59 Tuesday night.

Elsewhere, Wilmington is at Capital, Findlay at Heidelberg, Washington and Jefferson at Muskingum, Oberlin at Case Western Reserve, Ohio Wesleyan at John Carroll, Akron at Otterbein, Earlham at Wittenberg, Grove City at Wooster.

Denison at Hiram, Wright State at Kenyon, Northern Kentucky State at Cedarville, Ohio Dominican at Steubenville, Wilberforce at Rio Grande, Tiffin at Urbana, Mercyhurst at Ohio Northern, Hanover at Bluffton, Slippery Rock at Walsh and Defiance again at the McKenzie (Tenn.) Tournament.

Southern Cal, Notre Dame In Saturday Clash Of Titans

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

When unbeaten Southern California plays Notre Dame Saturday it will be the fifth time in nine years one of the two schools has gone into the rivalry with a perfect record.

An unbeaten record and high ranking also will be placed on the line at Birmingham, Ala., where second-ranked Alabama will meet once-beaten and ninth-ranked Auburn, while third-ranked Oklahoma will be rooting for Notre Dame and Auburn and trying to get past rival Oklahoma State.

The national championship rankings will not be at stake in Philadelphia, but the service academy title will be when Army and Navy meet in one of college football's fiercest and most colorful rivalries.

Louisiana State and Tennessee will be the only other members of The Associated Press Top Twenty playing Saturday, and both will be meeting traditional rivals. No. 12 Tennessee will be at Vanderbilt, while No. 11 LSU will play at Tulane at night.

Notre Dame went into the Southern Cal game with a 9-0 record in 1964, Ara Parseghian's first as Fighting Irish head coach, and was beaten 20-17. In 1970 the Irish again were 9-0, only to have Southern Cal win 38-23.

Southern Cal took a 9-0 mark into the 1968 game and had to settle for a 21-21 tie. The next year the Trojans won all of their games but the fifth one—a 14-14 tie with Notre Dame.

Southern Cal is 10-0 this year and headed for a Rose Bowl game against Ohio State.

against Auburn, a team that has only one loss against nine victories and one that will be out for revenge. The two schools went into last year's game unbeaten and Alabama won 31-7.

Bengals' Matson Believes Offensive Linemen Forgotten

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati Bengals guard Pat Matson believes offensive linemen are the forgotten men and many are overlooked when it becomes time to select the all-pro teams.

"People don't really understand what goes on in the offensive line," Matson said, "but more people are starting to become aware of it because announcers and sports writers are telling them about us now."

"In the past, people would always say, if you won, the quarterback or the running backs or the receivers did a great job. But if you lost, it was the offensive line didn't do the job. That was the only way to get mentioned."

Matson, who is a messenger guard for Coach Paul Brown, whose staff calls all the plays, said playing in the offensive line is a lonely world.

"You move your man and you defeat him, that's what brings you back. It's hand-to-hand contact and you're defeating some guy, maybe defeating an all-pro tackle."

"It's a matter of pride, I guess," said the 6-foot-4, 245-pound pro in his seventh year.

He said his biggest hangup is, "What do you have to do to make all pro when you're in the offensive line?"

"It takes a lot of press," he said, answering his own question, "and a lot of press and a lot of exposure, and I'd like to think I'm worthy of it."

Matson hopes for that exposure Sunday when the Bengals host the New York Giants for the first time with the New York press viewing.

"I've watched a lot of guards this year and I don't think anyone's doing it any better than I do."

Southern Mississippi Beats Spring Hill; Had Lost 31

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer
Let's forget about UCLA's achievements in college basketball for a few minutes and talk about Southern Mississippi.

Whereas the national champion Bruins have won 45 in a row, the Golden Eagles from Hattiesburg had lost 31 straight. Until Thursday night, that is, when the Eagles made it all a bad memory by whipping Spring Hill 111-82.

Royce Woolever and Glenn Masson each scored 25 points for USM as the Eagles, ahead by only 66-63, went on 12-2 burst to take a commanding lead.

The Citadel owns the longest losing streak among major schools with 27 while in the college division Olivet holds longest aversive mark of 46.

Southern Mississippi's losing streak started with the last six games of the 1970-71 season. The Eagles lost all 24 of their games last year and were beaten by Houston last week in their opening game of this season.

Back to UCLA. The country's top-ranked Bruins are heavily favored to make it 47 in a row against the Bradley Braves tonight, Florida State, runnerup to UCLA in the Associated Press preseason poll, opens against Georgia Southern as the new collegiate season goes into its first heavy weekend.

Louisville, No. 20 and the only team in the AP Top Twenty to play Thursday, was beaten by Vanderbilt 66-57. In other games, Creighton whipped St. John's of Minnesota 67-48. Pepperdine downed Whittier 88-73 and U. of Pacific tripped Hayward State 102-68 in its last outing before Saturday's clash with UCLA.

Terry Compton tallied 22 points to lead Vanderbilt over Louisville. A three-point play by Rod Freeman with 7:12 left put the Commodores ahead for good.

All of Louisville's starters were making their first varsity start, but Coach Denny Crum asserted "They're going to get there before the season is over. They have a long way to go as far as poise is concerned."

Terry Howard was high for Louisville with 14 points.

Goal Doesn't Count For Ron Ward Bonus

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Every time Ron Ward scores a goal for the New York Raiders in the World Hockey Association he probably mutters, "Shucks."

The leading goal scorer in the WHA with 21 has a contract that doesn't include a bonus clause for goals.

"Shucks," Ward said after he had scored twice to lead the Raiders to a 5-2 victory over the Minnesota Fighting Saints Thursday night. "I signed as a defenseman and there's no bonus clause for goals in my contract."

Don James Wins MAC Grid Honor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Even Don James who was selected Mid-American Coach of the Year Thursday, admits his Kent State football rebuilding program is well ahead of schedule.

"In all honesty," James, 39, said, "I thought it would take five years."

James has the Flashes enjoying their first conference crown in only his second year on the job. For that accomplishment, he was named on 38 of 39 MAC News Media Association ballots as the No. 1 coach.

Don Nehlen of runnerup Bowling Green was selected on the other ballot.

Kent State Athletic Director Mike Luke isn't surprised at James' feat.

"He's a total coach," said Luke. "Don deserves it. What does surprise me, though, is the rapidity with which he has moved our football program."

James took time from preparations for a Tangerine Bowl date Dec. 29 in Orlando, Fla., with Tampa to salute his players.

"Players win trophies for coaches," he said. "It's a tribute to my staff and our players."

Big Ten Cage Action To Be Heavy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Preliminary skirmishing for the Big Ten's highly regarded basketball forces moves into full swing Saturday as the still untested five conference clubs open their campaigns.

During the past week, four teams — including defending champion Minnesota — made their debuts in a season expected to sparkle with the most talented and experienced player crop in Big Ten history.

Iowa gets the jump this weekend opening tonight against visiting Chicago State.

Among the Saturday inaugurals are home contests for Michigan against Notre Dame; Illinois against DePaul; Indiana playing Harvard and Purdue facing Indian State.

Northwestern starts on the road against Butler.

Also on Saturday's card, two early Big Ten winners have home tilts—Minnesota facing Western Michigan and Michigan State engaging tough Kentucky.

Once-beaten Wisconsin is host to Southern Illinois of Edwardsville.

Led by reinstated Ron Behagen nd Olympian Jim Brewer Minnesota last Saturday opened with a 93-71 conquest of California-Irvine. Behagen scored 20 points in his first start since a Big Ten benching last season following a big Gopher brawl with Ohio State.

McDowell Cagers Split Contests

McDowell's seventh and eighth grade basketball teams split a pair of games with Canal Winchester Thursday on the latter's floor.

The seventh graders downed Canal Winchester, 39-36, while the eighth graders dropped a 30-27 decision to the Indians.

Both squads will be back in action Monday against Berne Union on the Logan Elm floor.

Steelers Will Beat Browns Says Forecaster

NEW YORK (AP) — Pittsburgh will crack the Cleveland Browns' six-game victory streak 27-20 in Sunday's showdown, almost assuring the Steelers of a National Football League playoff invitation. Ginning from last week's 12-1 prediction record, that's our call on the American Conference Central Division showdown where even the loser has a shot at a post-season berth.

Los Angeles-San Francisco is a Monday night game and, being a Steve Spurrier believer from his 1966 Heisman Trophy year at Florida, I go with the 49ers 27-20. Here's a game-by-game look with a pumped-up percentage of 737 after missing only the New Orleans upset of the Rams last weekend: STEELERS 27, BROWNS 20—Pittsburgh hasn't lost at Three Rivers Stadium this year and the combination of Franco Harris' running and a bullish Steeler defense will make me go with them over Cleveland every time. FORTY-NINERS 27, RAMS 20—The heat won't get to Spurrier and the guy is a born winner. San Francisco will blow it if John Brodie is returned to duty at quarterback.

PACKERS 17, LIONS 14—Another showdown and Green Bay will take it on a Chester Marcol field goal. Now doesn't that sound positive?

FALCONS 17, OILERS 10—Poor Bill Peterson. The il-keable former Florida State and Rice coach doesn't deserve to be No. 26 in a 26-team league.

Raiders 34, Chargers 21—Oakland wraps it up amazingly early in the AFC West.

DOLPHINS 27, PATRIOTS 0—Minutemen are flailed by the 60-minute men as Miami bags its 12th straight en route to a possible 14-0 regular season.

REDSKINS 37, EAGLES 10—No contest as Washington inches nearer NFC East crown and host role for a first-round playoff game Christmas Eve.

VIKINGS 21, BEARS 10—Chicago long ago wasted away and Minnesota still clings to hope for playoffs despite loss to Steelers last week.

COWBOYS 27, CARDS 10—St. Louis is almost to hopeless stage and Dallas can't afford to think about losing before rematch with Redskins. If then.

BENGALS 10, GIANTS 7—New York's playoff hopes perish.

JETS 28, SAINTS 21—But, Jets alive for another week.

CHIEFS 24, BRONCOS 17—Kansas City has to save face now since it'll be watching the playoffs on TV.

COLTS 20, BILLS 14—The Marty Domres Era folks from Baltimore make it three straight as General Manager Joe Thomas keeps saying, "I knew I was right."

Central Michigan Faces Miami

By GEORGE STRODE

Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An overtime loss at title favorite Ohio University has stripped Central Michigan of an ally for its basketball trip to Miami of Ohio Saturday night.

"It's the element of surprise. We've lost one of our best weapons," Dick Parfitt said after the big scare his Chippewas threw at the touted Bobcats.

The Central Michigan-Miami affair is the only Mid-American contest this weekend.

The non-conference clashes Saturday send MacMurray to Bowling Green, Eastern Michigan to Toledo, Marietta to Kent State and Ohio to Youngstown.

Primarily because they were unknown, the Chippewas were cast into last place in pre-season Mid-American predictions. That bugs Ben Kelso, Central Michigan's star guard.

The 6-foot-3 Kelso, who scored 23 points at Ohio, dislikes the Chips' predicted lowly stature.

"It's embarrassing," he said. "People picked us last because they said they don't know much about us. All they had to do was look in our press book."

Jim Snyder, Ohio's conference coaching dean, admitted he underestimated Central Michigan.

"They were much more physical on the boards than we thought they would be," he said. "They shot well and get down the floor with good fast breaks."

Since the conference title is decided by percentage, the Chips can ill afford another Mid-American setback. They play only 10 games inside the league, compared to 11 for Ohio and Miami and 12 for the rest of the members.

"Playing only 10 conference games is our biggest handicap," Parfitt said. "And Miami and Ohio don't have to come to our place this season."

Seven games, including Ohio State's visit to Washington, are on tap tonight as Ohio colleges head into first full weekend of basketball activity.

The Buckeyes, who whipped Wisconsin-Milwaukee 92-61 earlier this week, will run into UCLA's chief challengers in the Pac-8 Conference in 1973-74.

In other contests tonight, Wheeling is at Xavier, Wooster at Hiram, Bethany at Denison, Baldwin-Wallace at John Carroll, Wilberforce at Central State and Defiance in the McKenzie (Tenn.) Tournament.

Major independents Dayton and Cincinnati open their campaigns Saturday.

The Flyers entertain Illinois State. The Bearcats take on visiting Cleveland State, pummeled by Miami 83-59 Tuesday night.

Elsewhere, Wilmington is at Capital, Findlay at Heidelberg Washington and Jefferson at Muskingum, Oberlin at Case Western Reserve, Ohio Wesleyan at John Carroll, Akron at Otterbein, Earlham at Wittenberg, Grove City at Wooster.

Denison at Hiram, Wright State at Kenyon, Northern Kentucky State at Cedarville, Ohio Dominican at Steubenville, Wilberforce at Rio Grande, Tiffin at Urbana, Mercyhurst at Ohio Northern, Hanover at Bluffton, Slippery Rock at Walsh and Defiance again at the McKenzie (Tenn.) Tournament.

game against Ohio State. Notre Dame is 8-1 and head for the Orange Bowl against Nebraska.

Alabama, 10-0, will have to guard against thinking about Southern Cal losing and concentrate on the task at hand against Auburn, a team that has only one loss against nine victories and one that will be out for revenge. The two schools went into last year's game unbeaten and Alabama won 31-7.

HUNTERS — Pictured with deer they bagged while hunting in Gallia County are from the left, C. W. (Shorty) Sykes, Route 5, 10-point; Steve Sykes, Route 5, 4-point; Sam Evans, Route 1, Ashville, 8-point.

Long Hair Brings Tiff

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Saying shorter hair is most Christ-like, a Dayton minister has quit the American Legion because it dropped its rules on hair length.

"Jesus did not have long hair," said the Rev. Lee Lawson, 46, the associate pastor of a Church of God congregation here. "Nowhere in the Bible can you find that he did."

Lawson said he decided to renounce his 18-year membership after learning the Legion's national convention voted to void policies aimed at regulating the length of hair, hair style and beards of young men participating in Legion youth programs.

He said the Legion action indicates a "new permissiveness" that transgresses the laws of God.

"I feel men should be just that," Lawson said. "Who wants a dad that wears high heeled shoes, beads and other unisex symbols? I want a real dad and not another mother."

Humphrey To Be Panel Moderator

Donald J. Humphrey, vice president of Fertilizer, Ind. of Kingston, will be a featured participant at the 18th Annual National Fertilizer Solutions Association (NFSA) Convention and Chemical-Equipment Exposition.

The three-day meeting will be held December 5-7, 1972 at the Indiana Convention-Exposition Center in Indianapolis. The theme for the Convention is "Liquids Set the Pace" and will feature a program designed to aid the liquid fertilizer dealer-manager in improving his business.

Humphrey will participate as moderator for an Open Forum panel discussion.

A past president and member of the Board of Directors of the NFSA, Humphrey is a graduate of the University of Iowa. He resides with his wife and four children in rural Kingston.

The Open Forum panel discussion will bring together 15 liquid fertilizer industry experts to answer questions on retail selling, equipment, pesticides, micronutrients marketing, engineering, environment, safety, and liquid feed and liquid feed equipment.

The NFSA is a national organization representing more than 440 member companies and independent liquid fertilizer dealers across the United States and in Canada, Mexico, South America and Europe. Members also include major oil chemical and additive companies, equipment manufacturers and agricultural laboratories. National offices are located in Peoria, Illinois.

The Annual NFSA Convention and Chemical-Equipment Exposition brings together hundreds of liquid fertilizer industry leaders from across the country. The 100-plus exhibits in the exhibition represent agriculture's largest fertilizer trade show.

ger, who is heading back to Paris for a second session with Hanoi's Le Duc Tho.

The President flew to his Florida home after holding an unexpected second meeting with Nguyen Phu Duc, special representative of South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Before meeting Duc, however, Nixon couped an announcement that Rogers was staying in his second-term Cabinet with word that:

—Kenneth Rush, former ambassador to West Germany and more recently deputy secretary of defense, will be nominated to be No. 2 man to Rogers as deputy secretary of state — an office created last July.

—William Casey, now chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, will be nominated to be undersecretary of state for economic affairs.

—William J. Porter, now chief negotiator at the formal Vietnam peace talks in Paris, will be nominated to be undersecretary for political affairs.

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Five weeks have passed since Henry A. Kissinger said "peace is at hand" in Vietnam. That passage of time seems to have brought only confusion and shadow about the real chance of a settlement.

The one thing that is clear is the war. It goes on much as it did before the Oct. 26 disclosure by the North Vietnamese and Kissinger of a nine-point tentative ceasefire agreement.

From Oct. 29 to Nov. 5, the last period for which figures are available, 27 U.S. servicemen died in action, 42 were wounded and nine confirmed taken as prisoners of war.

U.S. B52s resumed raids in North Vietnam and Hanoi's forces kept up steady pressure in the South. The United States counted a B52 among the 28 aircraft it lost in the fighting, the first time one of the giant bombers was shot down.

The fighting keeps on even though Kissinger couped his peace-at-hand assessment with another saying and agreement could be reached in one more meeting with North Vietnamese negotiator Le Duc Tho, "lasting three or four days."

That meeting took place in Paris from Nov. 20 to Nov. 23 without a final agreement. The next step will be resumption of the Kissinger-Tho talks Monday.

Here is an account of some of the major changes and other developments between the Oct. 26 announcements and Kissinger's departure this weekend for Paris:

Almost immediately after Kissinger gave the American view to newsmen, North Vietnam opened a dispute by saying there was no need for a new round of talks. Hanoi charged President Nixon with reneging on a promise to sign an accord by Oct. 31.

The United States denied such a promise and pledged not to be forced into a settlement that was not just. Hanoi said the United States should sign by the 31st or see the agreement fail.

In the time from Oct. 26 to Oct. 31 the South Vietnamese started developing what became one of the most important aspects of the peace effort and made Saigon at times appear more of an adversary than Hanoi.

On Oct. 27 South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu said he would accept no ceasefire without a total withdrawal from his country of all North-ern troops.

The following day Tran Van Lam, Saigon's foreign minister, added a call for re-establishment of the demilitarized zone at the 17th parallel.

Neither of these conditions is addressed directly in the tentative agreement.

Oct. 31 went by with no settlement, but U.S. officials began what continues to be the official line—they were confident an agreement would be reached soon.

About that time the military activity stepped up with the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong evidently trying to pick up as much territory and population control as possible in the event of a quick ceasefire.

saw the outlines of the plan for an international commission to supervise a ceasefire.

The B52 raids resumed in the North and on enemy concentrations below the DMZ. The United States also began increasing shipments of military supplies to South Vietnam to strengthen Saigon's forces.

By Nov. 5, a shift in Hanoi's thinking became public when Xuan Thuy, a leading North Vietnamese negotiator at the Paris peace talks, said his government was "not creating any difficulties about a further meeting."

He said the other man, however held a cocked pistol to one hostage's head and threatened to shoot her. But Sgt. Joe Escobar quickly shot the abductor in the head and reached into the car to grab his pistol, Collins said.

Jesse Eugene Yates, 22, San Jose, was reported in critical condition at a San Jose hospital. Police said Arthur John De Parakia, 17, a Foothill Continuation High School student here, was turned over to juvenile authorities.

Larry Hoge, spokesman for Wells Fargo Bank, said two men wearing masks entered the bank's Alum Rock branch, fired a shot in the air and cleaned out the teller stations and the vault.

A tripped silent alarm brought police who surrounded the bank while the robbery was in progress, he said.

The gunman used the women employees as shields, then took a customer's car for their getaway. They were followed by a helicopter.

Chief of Detectives Bart Collins said the chase ended, after almost one hour, when the car attempted a U-turn near here, rammed into a mud bank, and then became mired.

When officers swarmed around the car, one gunman threw his weapon out the front window and started to scramble out, the chief said.

Bank Holdup, Hour's Pursuit Ends In Shootout, Capture

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A chase for two bank robbers, two women hostages and $116,000 holdup money ended Thursday when the getaway vehicle was surrendered and a policeman shot one robber, police said.

The two women were rescued unharmed, and bank officials said they believe all the money was recovered. One holdup man was critically wounded.

Larry Hoge, spokesman for Wells Fargo Bank, said two men wearing masks entered the bank's Alum Rock branch, fired a shot in the air and cleaned out the teller stations and the vault.

A tripped silent alarm brought police who surrounded the bank while the robbery was in progress, he said.

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Alf Landon, the former Kansas governor and 1936 Republican presidential nominee, is in Stormont-Vail Hospital here for a general medical checkup.

A hospital spokesman said Wednesday that Landon, who was admitted Tuesday, also was being treated for a pinched nerve which has been bothering him in recent months.

The condition of the 85-year-old Landon was listed as good.

He did warn that Hanoi would not accept any effort by Kissinger to negotiate substantive changes in the previous draft accord.

Within that same week Le Duc Tho sent a private signal that he was willing to meet Kissinger in Paris and American officials reported a belief that some substantive negotiations were acceptable to Hanoi.

Nov. 7 passed and President Nixon was overwhelmingly re-elected. The next day the White House announced that Kissinger's deputy, Gen. Alexander Haig, was on his way to Saigon for a meeting with Thieu.

Haig carried a personal letter from Nixon as the United States sought to convince Thieu that Hanoi's refusal to pledge a troop withdrawal in writing would not endanger his regime.

Haig reported back to Nixon after two days of meetings with Thieu that the South Vietnamese president remained unconvinced on the troop withdrawal question.

On Nov. 16, the North Vietnamese announced that Le Duc Tho was returning to Paris. Still, in one of the heaviest air raids of the entire war, American military officials reminded the world that the fighting was continuing by sending 33 B52s and 309 other planes above the DMZ on Nov. 16.

Thieu arrived in Paris Nov. 17. The White House followed in a few hours with the announcement that Kissinger would join him on Nov. 20.

American air strikes were reduced about the same time and so was the ground fighting, and U.S. officials in Washington denied that Kissinger ever intended to rule out further consultations.

The day the talks opened, the bombing picked up.

After six days, Kissinger and Thieu recessed their talks until Dec. 4. The main problem remaining was Saigon's demand for a written pledge on a North Vietnamese troop withdrawal.

Kissinger, even though convinced Hanoi would never agree, is reported to have made the case on behalf of Saigon. Sources said he got Hanoi to agree to at least withdraw some of its forces. Kissinger then asked for the recess to confer with President Nixon on how to handle Thieu. On Nov. 29 and 30, President Nixon met with a personal representative of President Thieu, Nguyen Phu Duc. Nixon was described as saying Hanoi had gone as far as could be reasonably expected on the troop question. There were no signs Duc was convinced, but there were signs the United States would not hold up an agreement any longer, and Kissinger prepared to leave for Paris and the Dec. 4 resumption of talks with Tho.

DONALD HUMPHREY

Humphrey To Be Panel Moderator

Donald J. Humphrey, vice president of Fertilizer, Inc. of Kingston, Ind., will be a featured participant at the 18th Annual National Fertilizer Solutions Association (NFSA) Convention and Chemical-Equipment Exposition.

The three-day meeting will be held December 5-7, 1972 at the Indiana Convention-Exposition Center in Indianapolis. The theme for the Convention is "Liquids Set the Pace" and will feature a program designed to aid the liquid fertilizer dealer-manager in improving his business.

Humphrey will participate as moderator for an Open Forum panel discussion.

A past president and member of the Board of Directors of the NFSA, Humphrey is a graduate of the University of Iowa. He resides with his wife and four children in rural Kingston.

The Open Forum panel discussion will bring together 15 liquid fertilizer industry experts to answer questions on retail selling, equipment, pesticides, micronutrients marketing, engineering, environment, safety and liquid feed and liquid feed equipment.

The NFSA is a national organization representing more than 440 member companies and independent liquid fertilizer dealers across the United States and in Canada, Mexico, South America and Europe. Members also include major oil chemical and additive companies, equipment manufacturers and agricultural laboratories. National offices are located in Peoria, Illinois.

The Annual NFSA Convention and Chemical-Equipment Exposition brings together hundreds of liquid fertilizer industry leaders from across the country. The 100-plus exhibits in the exhibition represent agriculture's largest fertilizer trade show.

The President flew to his Florida home after holding an unexpected second meeting with Nguyen Phu Duc, special representative of South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Before meeting Duc, however, Nixon coupled an announcement that Rogers was staying in his second-term Cabinet with word that:

—Kenneth Rush, former ambassador to West Germany and more recently deputy secretary of defense, will be nominated to be No. 2 man to Rogers as deputy secretary of state — an office created last July.

—William Casey, now chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, will be nominated to be undersecretary of state for economic affairs.

—William J. Porter, now chief negotiator at the formal Vietnam peace talks in Paris, will be nominated to be undersecretary for political affairs.

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Five weeks have passed since Henry A. Kissinger said "peace is at hand" in Vietnam. That passage of time seems to have brought only confusion and shadow about the real chance of a settlement.

The one thing that is clear is the war. It goes on much as it did before the Oct. 26 disclosure by the North Vietnamese and Kissinger of a nine-point tentative ceasefire agreement.

From Oct. 29 to Nov. 5, the last period for which figures are available, 27 U.S. servicemen died in action, 42 were wounded and nine confirmed taken as prisoners of war.

U.S. B52s resumed raids in North Vietnam and Hanoi's forces kept up steady pressure in the South. The United States counted a B52 among the 28 aircraft it lost in the fighting, the first time one of the giant bombers was shot down.

The fighting keeps on even though Kissinger coupled his peace-at-hand assessment with another saying and agreement could be reached in one more meeting with North Vietnamese negotiator Le Duc Tho, "lasting three or four days."

That meeting took place in Paris from Nov. 20 to Nov. 25 without a final agreement. The next step will be resumption of the Kissinger-Tho talks Monday.

Here is an account of some of the major changes and other developments between the Oct. 26 announcements and Kissinger's departure this weekend for Paris:

Almost immediately after Kissinger gave the American view to newsmen, North Vietnam opened a dispute by saying there was no need for a new round of talks. Hanoi charged President Nixon with reneging on a promise to sign an accord by Oct. 31.

The United States denied such a promise and pledged not to be forced into a settlement that was not just. Hanoi said the United States should sign by the 31st or see the agreement fail.

In the time from Oct. 26 to Oct. 31 the South Vietnamese started developing what became one of the most important aspects of the peace effort and made Saigon at times appear more of an adversary than Hanoi.

On Oct. 27 South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu said he would accept no ceasefire without a total withdrawal from his country of all North-ern troops.

The following day Tran Van Lam, Saigon's foreign minister, added a call for re-establishment of the demilitarized zone at the 17th parallel.

Neither of these conditions is addressed directly in the tentative agreement.

Oct. 31 went by with no settlement, but U.S. officials began what continues to be the official line—they were confident an agreement would be reached soon.

About that time the military activity stepped up with the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong evidently trying to pick up as much territory and population control as possible in the event of a quick ceasefire.

The turn of the month also saw the outlines of the plan for an international commission to supervise a ceasefire.

The B52 raids resumed in the North and on enemy concentrations below the DMZ. The United States also began increasing shipments of military supplies to South Vietnam to strengthen Saigon's forces.

By Nov. 5, a shift in Hanoi's thinking became public when Xuan Thuy, a leading North Vietnamese negotiator at the Paris peace talks, said his government was "not creating any difficulties about a further meeting."

Bank Holdup, Hour's Pursuit Ends In Shootout, Capture

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A chase for two bank robbers, two women hostages and $116,000 holdup money ended Thursday when the getaway vehicle was surrendered and a policeman shot one robber, police said.

The two women were rescued unharmed, and bank officials said they believe all the money was recovered. One holdup man was critically wounded.

Larry Hoge, spokesman for Wells Fargo Bank, said two men wearing masks entered the bank's Alum Rock branch, fired a shot in the air and cleaned out the teller stations and the vault.

A tripped silent alarm brought police who surrounded the bank while the robbery was in progress, he said.

The gunman used the women employees as shields, then took a customer's car for their getaway. They were followed by a helicopter.

Chief of Detectives Bart Collins said the chase ended, after almost one hour, when the car attempted a U-turn near here, rammed into a mud bank, and then became mired.

When officers swarmed around the car, one gunman threw his weapon out the front window and started to scramble out, the chief said.

He said the other man, however held a cocked pistol to one hostage's head and threatened to shoot her. But Sgt. Joe Escobar quickly shot the abductor in the head and reached into the car to grab his pistol, Collins said.

Jesse Eugene Yates, 22, San Jose, was reported in critical condition at a San Jose hospital. Police said Arthur John De Parakia, 17, a Pothill Continuation High School student here, was turned over to juvenile authorities.

Alf Landon Treated For Pinched Nerve

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Alf Landon, the former Kansas governor and 1936 Republican presidential nominee, is in Stormont-Vail Hospital here for a general medical checkup.

A hospital spokesman said Wednesday that Landon, who was admitted Tuesday, also was being treated for a pinched nerve which has been bothering him in recent months.

The condition of the 85-year-old Landon was listed as good.

Weeks Pass Since Peace Break; Viet War Goes On question.

There were no signs Duc was convinced, but there were signs the United States would not hold up an agreement any longer, and Kissinger prepared to leave for Paris and the Dec. 4 resumption of talks with Tho.

He did warn that Hanoi would not accept any effort by Kissinger to negotiate substantive changes in the previous draft accord.

Within that same week Le Duc Tho sent a private signal that he was willing to meet Kissinger in Paris and American officials reported a belief that some substantive negotiations were acceptable to Hanoi.

Nov. 7 passed and President Nixon was overwhelmingly re-elected. The next day the White House announced that Kissinger's deputy, Gen. Alexander Haig, was on his way to Saigon for a meeting with Thieu.

Haig carried a personal letter from Nixon as the United States sought to convince Thieu that Hanoi's refusal to pledge a troop withdrawal in writing would not endanger his regime.

Haig reported back to Nixon after two days of meetings with Thieu that the South Vietnamese president remained unconvinced on the troop withdrawal question.

On Nov. 16, the North Vietnamese announced that Le Duc Tho was returning to Paris. Still, in one of the heaviest air raids of the entire war, American military officials reminded the world that the fighting was continuing by sending 33 B52s and 309 other planes above the DMZ on Nov. 16.

Tho arrived in Paris Nov. 17. The White House followed in a few hours with the announcement that Kissinger would join him on Nov. 20.

American air strikes were reduced about the same time and so was the ground fighting, and U.S. officials in Washington denied that Kissinger ever intended to rule out further consultations.

The day the talks opened, the bombing picked up.

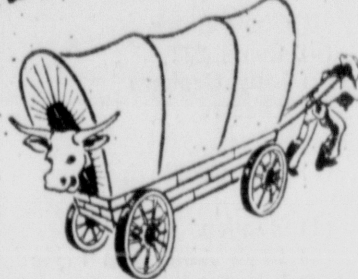

After six days, Kissinger and Tho recessed their talks until Dec. 4. The main problem remaining was Saigon's demand for a written pledge on a North Vietnamese troop withdrawal.

Kissinger, even though convinced Hanoi would never agree, is reported to have made the case on behalf of Saigon. Sources said he got Hanoi to agree to at least withdraw some of its forces. Kissinger then asked for the recess to confer with President Nixon on
